They met at an inquest Tuesday. George Starcevic, 22, and Nicholas LaPapa, Jr., 20, are accused of killing the off-duty policeman after attempting a holdup as he sat parked in his car with Miss Caroline Smith, 18. Trapper-Tavern Operator Held In Slaying of Ex-Bartender

Rhineland — A well-known trapper and tavern operator was held on an open charge today as authorities checked his story that he killed Montgomery and Mrs. Holeywinski his former bartender in self-defense during an argument over the trapper's wife.

The victim, 40-year-old Robert F. Montgomery, Tomahawk, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary's hospital early this morning. He had been struck by a shotgun blast in the right side.

Admits Shooting — Dist. Atty. Albert J. Cirilli and Sheriff Donald M. Krouze said Walter Holeywinski, 59, had admitted shooting Montgomery when he brought Holeywinski's wife, Helen, 50, home at 4:30 a.m. today. But Holeywinski declared, they said, that he fired when Montgomery pulled a revolver from his pocket. Holeywinski accused Montgomery of "going out" with his wife for four years and charged that the former bartender had refused to break off the relationship.

Auburn-haired Mrs. Holeywinski was held as a material witness pending an inquest. Mrs. Holeywinski drove the unconscious Montgomery to Rhineland in her car and stopped at the police station saying she needed help to take him to the hospital. A policeman drove the car to the hospital where Montgomery was pronounced dead.

Names Husband — The district attorney said Mrs. Holeywinski told police Montgomery had been shot by her husband but refused to say any more.

Officers went to the Holeywinski home in the town of Sugar Camp, 16 miles north of Rhineland, and arrested Holeywinski. He turned over to them a .38 caliber revolver which he said Montgomery had pulled from his pocket when he demonstrated with him for going out with his wife. Authorities

North Central Files Objection To Air Route

Airline Wants CAB To Order Four Daily Stops at County Port

North Central Airlines has filed an objection to the route by which a civil aeronautics board examiner recommends airline service for Outagamie county airport.

Instead, the airline wants the CAB to order four stops daily for the county port under a new route.

North Central proposes two planes daily for a Minneapolis-Appleton-Chicago route and two others daily for return flights on the same route. The route would bypass Green Bay, Oshkosh and Manitowoc.

Winnebago Port — The airline cites the nearness of the Winnebago county port at Oshkosh and what it calls "a weak link" in the route from Appleton to Minneapolis proposed by the examiner.

The examiner supported a route which included Minneapolis, Eau Claire, Marshfield and Appleton.

North Central's objection means that the long-awaited CAB certification of the county port for airline service probably won't come for six to eight months.

North Central must file a supporting brief with the CAB before Feb. 1. After that, the CAB will hold a hearing. The objection is to a recommendation by Curtis Henderson, a CAB examiner who heard petitions for service from communities in seven states in lengthy hearings.

2 Brothers Die In Apartment Fire

Milwaukee — Two small children died early today in a fire in a West Milwaukee apartment house. The victims were Jack Gastdorf, Jr., 3, and his 3-months old brother, Douglas, the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gastdorf.

Twelve other occupants of the 3-story building fled to safety. Fire Chief John Pavlik said the blaze was believed to have started from a cigarette which ignited a sofa in the living room of the Gastdorf apartment.

The brothers were pronounced dead at County Emergency Hospital. Pavlik said the fire which consumed mainly the southeast corner of the apartment, caused an estimated $3,500 damage.

Industrialist Says Nation Lacks Clear Policy for Space Age

Aircraft Firm Official States It Must Come From President

Washington — A key national industrialist said today there is an alarming lack of clear-cut space age defense policy that must stem from the president of the United States.

Robert E. Gross, chief executive officer of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp., told the senate preparedness subcommittee investigating the lagging missile-satellite program.

"Although we face a national crisis as grave as any in our history short of actual war, we have been more concerned with balanced budgets, reduced taxes and business as usual than with security from atomic annihilation."

Must Face Facts — "It is high time we, as a nation, face the facts of life," Lockheed is the prime contractor for the navy's fleet ballistic missile, Polaris.

Gross was to be followed to the witness chair by representatives of two other missile makers — Dan Kumball of Aerojet-General and Patrick Hyland of Hughes Aircraft.

Gross had a statement which said that events exemplified by the launching of the Russian Sputniks clearly indicate "we must substantially increase the emphasis and quicken the tempo of our defense effort."

Need Strong Leadership — He said "a Herculean effort" would be required to "neutralize the advantage Russia unquestionably holds today."

"The people must be told the gravity of our situation and what is required to strengthen our defense and regain our respect in the community of nations," Gross said.

"This demands strong, positive leadership, a realistic appraisal of our defense requirements, a renunciation of political considerations, a workable plan and adequate funds to get the job done."

"The responsibility for these policy decisions rest primarily with the president, the department of defense and the civil-

Report AFL-CIO Drops Nearly 100 Organizers

New York — The New York Times quoted informed sources today as saying the AFL-CIO has abolished nearly 100 organizers' jobs.

Some of the organizers are being retired voluntarily, some are being transferred to a new speakers' bureau that is being set up in the public relations department and a "substantial number" are being discharged, the newspaper said in a Washington dispatch.

Norse Tanker Breaks in Two During Storm

All but 3 of 38 Crewmen Taken Off Floating Halves

Genoa, Italy — The Norwegian tanker Seirstad broke in two in a Mediterranean tempest early today. All but three of the 38 crewmen were reported rescued from the floating halves of the ship.

The Dutch freighter Bintang, in a radio message said it had picked up 28 of the crew members southeast of Majorca, largest of the Balearic islands.

The French admiralty at Algiers later announced that the small 4,740-ton Italian steamer Rubicone had rescued 7 of the 10 adrift on the derelict hulk. There was no word of the other three, but the admiralty said there was a possibility some other ship had taken them off.

Both Sections Afloat — The bow of the 9,974-ton ship was reported earlier to have sunk. But the French admiralty in Algiers said both parts of the ship were still afloat. An admiralty spokesman said the bow had drifted away but was spotted late this afternoon. All ships in the vicinity were ordered to rescue the 10 stranded men.

The Seirstad was carrying 38 persons. Reports that the bow had sunk came from a French aircraft on at least one occasion a plane carrying a nuclear weapon crashed without exploding the weapon.

The Pentagon, apparently acting after consultation with other government agencies, refused to say where or when the accident occurred or to say whether more than one such incident might have occurred.

However, there was growing belief that the accident mentioned by the air force Monday occurred within the last year in the continental United States and involved a B-47 medium bomber.

Refuse Approval For Paul Robeson

Madison — The Memorial Union Music committee of the University of Wisconsin said today it had turned down a request by the Student Folk Arts society for permission to bring Paul Robeson, Negro singer who has voiced admiration of communism, to the university for a concert.

Joel Skornicka, Genoa, chairman of the committee, said that Robeson's views "had nothing to do with the refusal to approve the concert." He added that the concert was planned April 27-28 which is at the time that several other events are scheduled.

Donald Roadosh, New York, of the arts society said that "it is a shame and a disgrace to carry the outer casing of an atomic bomb which did not explode. But they could not say whether it was to that crash that the air force announcement referred."

Economic Advisers See Upturn in Business, He Says at Press Meeting

Washington — President Eisenhower said today he would prefer a reasonable amount of deficit spending this year to a tax increase.

The president, at his first news conference in 2½ months, said he believes some red ink spending would be the only answer under present circumstances if it came to a choice between that and a tax increase in order to handle the proposed new federal budget.

In that connection, Eisenhower noted that his economic advisers are predicting an upturn from the current business recession.

Eisenhower was discussing the $73,900,000,000 budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 which he sent to congress on Monday.

On paper, it is narrowly in balance with a forecast of a surplus of a half billion dollars based on anticipated tax revenues.

A $400 million deficit now is in prospect for the current fiscal year, because tax collections have fallen with the decline in business prosperity while spending for defense has gone up.

This was Eisenhower's first news conference since Oct. 30. He suffered a minor stroke on Nov. 25.

In reply to questions about his health at this time, the president said with a smile that he is feeling very good and would like to get out on the golf course for a couple hours if only there were some sun.

Doctors Must Decide — In response to a question, Eisenhower said he never gave any consideration to resigning after his latest illness. He touched off a round of laughter by adding that his doctors were assuring him a couple hours after the minor stroke that — as the president put it — there was no damage whatever to the intellectual faculties he has.

Turning serious, Eisenhower went on to say that if ever his doctors should tell him that he was unable to carry on the duties of the presidency, he would have no recourse except to resign.

Eisenhower also discussed these other matters:

Eisenhower said — as he did in his message to Soviet Premier Bulganin last weekend — that there must be adequate advance preparation before he would agree to any new summit conference with the Russians. He said the preliminary steps probably should include meetings at the ambassadorial level and of the foreign ministers of the countries to be represented at any such conference.

Gaither Report Secret — In reply to a question, Eisenhower said he has given no thought whatever to including red China and its satellites in any summit conference.

Eisenhower said he has no intention whatever of ever releasing the administration's Gaither report on the state of the nation's defenses and the prospect for the future. That report, drawn up by a committee of advisers named by the president, reportedly cautions that the United States is fast losing military superiority to Russia.

Eisenhower said he names such study groups with the proviso that information given to them, and developed by them, is in a privileged or secret category. If there should be any change in that, Eisenhower said.

Payload Satellite Held to be Near

Washington — Air force missile experts expect to place "a payload satellite in orbit" about the earth shortly and they say the same existing "missile can perform unmanned reconnaissance of the moon."

This forecast became public today through closed-door testimony by Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, commander of the air force ballistic missile division.

The much-censored testimony was released by the senate preparedness subcommittee, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas).

Target dates for these performances were deleted as military secrets but Schriever said the present Thor 1,500-mile air force missile can place "a payload satellite in orbit." He said by adding an existing third stage "this missile can perform unmanned reconnaissance of the moon."

The Thor missile is a two-stage missile with a payload of 1,500 pounds. It is the only missile in the air force inventory that can place a payload satellite in orbit.

Army Checks Records Obtained by Launching of Big Redstone Missile

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — The army checked over tape and photographic records of a night-time launching of its big Redstone missile today for clues that might help it put an American-style Sputnik into an orbit.

The Redstone was sent up to a starlit, cloudless, moonless sky from the air force missile test center here at 8:25 p.m. last night.

Vital to Satellite — Photographic and recording devices at island stations along the missile test range extending out into the Atlantic registered detailed information as the missile moved in the manner in which the missile o'clock this morning: High 31; low 26. Workers Almost Outnumber Patients, Supervisor Finds Appleton Supv. Sylvester Esler pointed out to the Outagamie county board Tuesday that there were only three more patients than workers in the River-view sanitarium, the county's tuberculosis hospital.

Esler was ordered if the institution might be decreasing and offered a resolution for study of the situation.

The resolution passed unanimously, emphasizing that the county should investigate putting its patients in another county tuberculosis sanitarium or take in patients from another county to operate River-view at something nearer capacity.

He pointed out that when his salary committee decided to study the wage pattern of the institution which hadn't been changed in 11 years, he discovered there were 32 persons working there taking care of 35 patients.

Esler reminded the board that the state has closed one TB sanitarium near Tomahawk and an addition within the next few years given it to the department of years.

High Court Upholds Parnell Road Ruling

Refused to Allow Power Firm's $23,666 Suit Against County

The state supreme court has upheld a ruling by Circuit Court Judge Andrew W. Parnell which refused to allow a utility to proceed with its damage suit against Columbia county.

The Wisconsin Power and Light company filed suit, claiming Columbia county caused $23,666 damage to a steel high tension line tower when a road was built through a swamp. Ballast dumped parallel to the power line caused the peat and muck to shift and buckle, twisting and toppling the tower.

The utility charged the county took its property, entitling the firm to any compensation, that the county trespassed on its property and that the county was liable for the damage by creating a nuisance.

No Legal Grounds
The county claimed the utility did not have sufficient legal grounds for action. Judge Parnell's ruling and that of the supreme court was that the utility did not have grounds for action.

However, both courts gave the utility a period in which to amend its suit and reopen the case.

The court held the county did not take the utility's property, since the property on which the tower was built had no utility for the highway project, the county did not need the land, the county did not intend to damage the tower, the public obtained no benefit from the damage and the damage was accidental.

No trespassing occurred because the county had no intent to interfere with the towers, the court ruled.

The high court said, "nuisance is a slippery term" which has been defined in many ways. Ordinarily, the court ruled, nuisance is characterized as an activity or condition giving rise to a hazard or injury. In the tower damage instance, the deposit of road ballast was a normal action performed in a normal way. It was not hazardous, nor was there any intent by the county to damage the tower, the court ruled.

In summation, the court ruled that the utility, "having seen fit to place its tower on an abnormally unstable base, without acquiring rights in surrounding land, might perhaps be thought to have assumed the risk of damage resulting from use of such nearby land by reason of the instability of the subsoil, since the imposition of liability on the defendant (Columbia county) would, in effect, place a servitude on the surrounding land in plaintiff's (Wisconsin Power and Light) favor without compensation to the landowner."

Judge Parnell heard the case in Portage county after it was referred to him by the chairman of the state board of circuit judges.

City Police Will Patrol Park Dances

City police will patrol recreation department dances this summer.

The dances last summer when they were patrolled by Outagamie county sheriff's deputies hired by the commission—were curtailed on order of Mayor Robert L. Roemer after rowdiness got out of hand.

Chief of Police Herbert W. Kapp today promised his men would patrol the dances and the Pierce park area on dance nights this year.

His promise was in response to information that the recreation commission Tuesday night instructed Elmer W. Grover, recreation director, to seek police patrols for this year's dances.

Not the Answer
Commissioners agreed with Chairman Kenneth Priebe that stopping the dances was not the answer to the rowdiness problem.

"It was regrettable that it had to be done because of a few," said Mrs. Harold Ornstein.

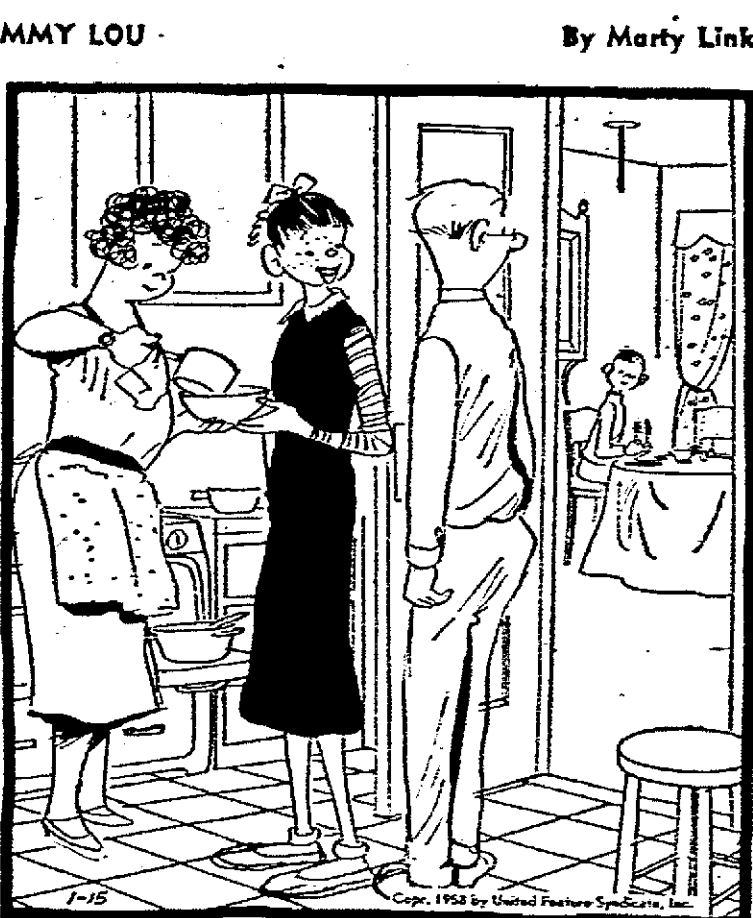

Grover said he tried for years to get the police department to do the patrolling, but always met the same answer: There were not enough policemen to do the job.

Chief Kapp said today this was true in years past, but he will have men available this year.

Not Policemen
Commissioner John A. Schneider said the commission shouldn't have to pay deputies for the dances.

Commissioner Ervin J. Bogan said the deputies were not even regular sheriff's deputies, but working men whom the sheriff had deputized to take care of dances and the like.

The deputies wear uniforms, it was said, but they are not regular policemen.

"Alvin's already had dinner, but just to be sociable he says he'll eat here, too."

Remodeling Project To Prepare for New Barber Shop Opening

A permit to remodel the inside of 125 N. Oneida street, former site of the Mary Ebb Travel Agency, has been issued by Building Inspector Walter Bogan.

Warner Brothers Theater, Inc., obtained the permit, listing cost of anticipated painting and stairway relocation at $250.

The travel agency moved Jan. 2 to 215 E. College avenue. A barber shop, to be operated by Kenneth J. Schavet, Paynes Point, Neenah, is expected to open after remodeling.

Schavet will transfer his present shop at 106 E. Fremont street to the new location. The new shop will be called the Rio Barber shop.

County to Rent Paver for Two Hot Mix Jobs

Board Finds It Can't Discuss Buying Plant; Votes to Try Gear

A change in the surfacing of at least two county roads was voted Tuesday by Outagamie county supervisors.

Although supporters of purchasing a $115,000 hot asphalt mix plant found their way blocked by a parliamentary maneuver by Appleton Supv. Alois Fischer, they managed to obtain board permission to rent a paver and purchase hot mix from private contractors.

During its November session, the board decided not to purchase a hot mix plant. The supervisors voted for Fischer's proposal to postpone the matter indefinitely.

Tuesday supervisors found what they had done by that vote. Since the board is in session continuously from April to April, adjourning each session from month to month, Fischer's move prevented further discussion of the plant until the April meeting.

Action Too Late

Appleton Supv. Fred Krause, chairman of the board's highway committee, pointed out that would be too late for the county to use the hot mix on state aid roads.

Krause brought the question up because the state is ready to program resurfacing of County Trunk G between Highways 47 and 187 and County Trunk C between County Trunks E and S. The highway committee wants to try hot mix surfacing, replacing the cold asphalt mix surface used for 30 years on county roads.

Freedom Supv. Joseph Weyers offered a proposal to rent a hot mix plant.

Krause said the county couldn't just go out and rent a plant "that takes some setting up."

Weyers asked, "What'll we do, let the jobs out for contract or rent some equipment?" Krause suggested the county rent a paver and contract for the hot mix from private contractors. The highway department would use its own equipment to haul the mix to the job, Krause said.

Private Contractors
Fischer, who opposes the idea of the county getting into the hot mix business, offered a suggestion to let the job to private contractors.

"What about our people—do you want them to just sit around?" asked Krause.

"You've got too many, anyway," retorted Fischer.

Weyers said the idea of renting equipment was to get some

Ike Takes Hold

In his State of the Union address, his budget message and his letter to Premier Bulganin, President Eisenhower obviously has tried to regain the leadership of the United States and the free world that has slipped through his grasp during the past year.

Some of the old Eisenhower qualities are apparent in all three documents — the quiet determination to get things done, the refusal to be stampeded into questionable decisions, the adamant defending of concepts in which he firmly believes — such as foreign aid and reciprocal trade, the occasional flash of inspired boldness such as his demand for the 6-cent postage rate or his challenge to Russia to renounce the veto in the U.N.

Yet there was much that was missing. While the State of the Union message displayed a certain "sense of urgency" as demanded by the president's critics, it did not seem to reflect a determination on the part of the administration to go all-out in overtaking the Soviet's lead in missiles and space vehicles. The budget as proposed by Mr. Eisenhower would increase the proportion of federal spending devoted to national security by only 1 per cent — from 63 to 64 per cent; and while a few minor savings are proposed in such things as farm aids and veterans' benefits it is obvious no real attack is planned on unnecessary non-military spending. The note to Bulganin almost seems to plead for such things as free elections in Germany; this nation, which once shouted that freedom was every man's right, is now reduced to "hoping" that Russia's dictators will see their way to grant a measure of freedom to their captives.

Nevertheless the president is again demonstrating leadership, he is again arguing strongly for the things he believes in, he is again pointing the direction in which he thinks the nation should go. During the past year events seemed to be occurring despite rather than because of Mr. Eisenhower's ideas or wishes; if he now follows up his strong words with equally determined action, the nation cannot help but feel a new sense of direction, of purpose.

Certainly the country will welcome Ike's apparent determination to crack some heads together in the Pentagon, to remind our military leaders that they work for the people, not for some autonomous service entity. (Harry Truman, for all his faults, struck home with his remark that "When I was president, the military knew who was boss.") We think the country has become more and more sickened over the displays of inter-service feuding; Mr. Eisenhower can count on strong public support in trying to end it.

We are aware of the serious reservations many of our readers hold regarding foreign aid — we share many of them — yet we think the country would be wise to go along with the president on this matter. With the Sputniks whirling overhead, our friends suddenly seem much more dear to us. The Soviet leaders, certainly, are mobilizing the resources of the entire communist world in their attempt to overwhelm us; it will take the resources of the entire free world to throw them back.

The president's new proposals in the field of education make more sense, at least, than his school construction aid plan of the last two years. Education in general should remain the responsibility of the states. However the federal government has the responsibility of providing for our defense, and if a certain type of educated manpower is needed for that defense the provision of such education becomes of federal concern. Here, as in so many other areas, we dare not reject the advice and requests of the men on whom we depend for our national and individual safety.

The president's call for even more dedication to the preservation of peace, coupled with his letter to Bulganin, should do much to refute the unwarranted recent criticism of our foreign policies — the nonsensical claim that we have been following a line of "bluff and bluster." These attacks have been extremely unfair to Mr. Eisenhower, who in our opinion is one of the most sincere seekers after peace ever to become chief executive of a major power.

The president's proposals, whatever their deficiencies, are worthy of the support of all Americans regardless of party. The job of Congress is not to tear them down, but to seek for ways in which to strengthen them.

'Stone Age of the Space Era'

Whether America is behind Russia as we enter the space era may be important, but it may be well to have in mind Hugo Gernsback's opinion that both nations are now in the Stone Age of that period.

Gernsback is 73 years old. He is an inventor and pioneer publisher of science fiction magazines. He has just issued his annual "Forecast" which looks ahead with scientific predictions.

He says the Russian feat of sending a rocket 186.4 miles into space is merely a beginning, and in 175 years will be regarded in about the same awe as a boy riding on a 3-wheeled bike is today.

Gernsback says that in 2133 A. D. huge space ships called Gravitors will fill the skies carrying up to 10,000 passengers at 2-500 miles per hour at heights of about 600 miles. He says the Gravitors will replace all aircraft in 2010 A. D. when gravitation will be conquered. Gernsback says, "Gravitation, an electromagnetic phenomenon, as forecast by Einstein, can be neutralized by surrounding any body with a counter-gravitational field. This will make it weightless. Hence a 100,000-ton Gravitor ship, once energized and become weightless, can fly at practically any desired speed. Atomic fusion and cosmic energy on board are used to energize and propel the ship."

Gernsback sees a little problem ahead for his Gravitors resulting from the "Stone Age" activities of the Americans and Russians in sending up sputniks. He thinks there will be so many of them that it will be necessary to set up a World Spasweep (space-sweep) Authority to clear away the wreckage of these wrecked sputniks to make way for the space liners.

While the Gravitors are flitting about from Mercury to Mars, the Spasweep crew will be locating any space wrecks or meteoric showers by radar and "volatilizing them by cosmic atomic blasts."

Gernsback has not forgotten those who may stay on Earth even in the days of easy interplanetary travel. There will be TV Phantomcasts in which persons will appear to step right out of the television receiver and appear in three dimensions in the room about the viewer. There will be pneumatic inflatable furniture, miniplants and miniflowers never more than three inches high, infra-red heating, powerful radiation to kill all germs or viruses, and "percentage-gravitated bedrooms to reduce weight and thus give the person maximum rest due to the little weight on the bed."

No one knows how far off Gernsback's predictions may be from reality, but the probability is that they are less than may be expected. Therefore the question arises, why should anyone want to fight for the trifles on Earth today when the future holds things unlimited in the extent of their wonders and the coming of which can only be delayed by such a folly as war?

Pollution Problems Elsewhere

It is frequently useful to be reminded that public problems that seem peculiarly local because of their immediacy are actually common to the rest of the world, and are being fought with difficulty elsewhere.

Thus our attention was caught recently by a report from the Water Pollution Board of the New York State Department of Health, which might with perfect propriety have been issued by our own State Committee on Water Pollution.

There, as here, anxious critics have sometimes seemed unreasonably to demand that we miraculously undo in a few years problems that were decades, even centuries, in the making.

In many instances the problems of water pollution in New York state date back to the years when settlements were being established and streams were being freely used as dumping places for waste products of community life.

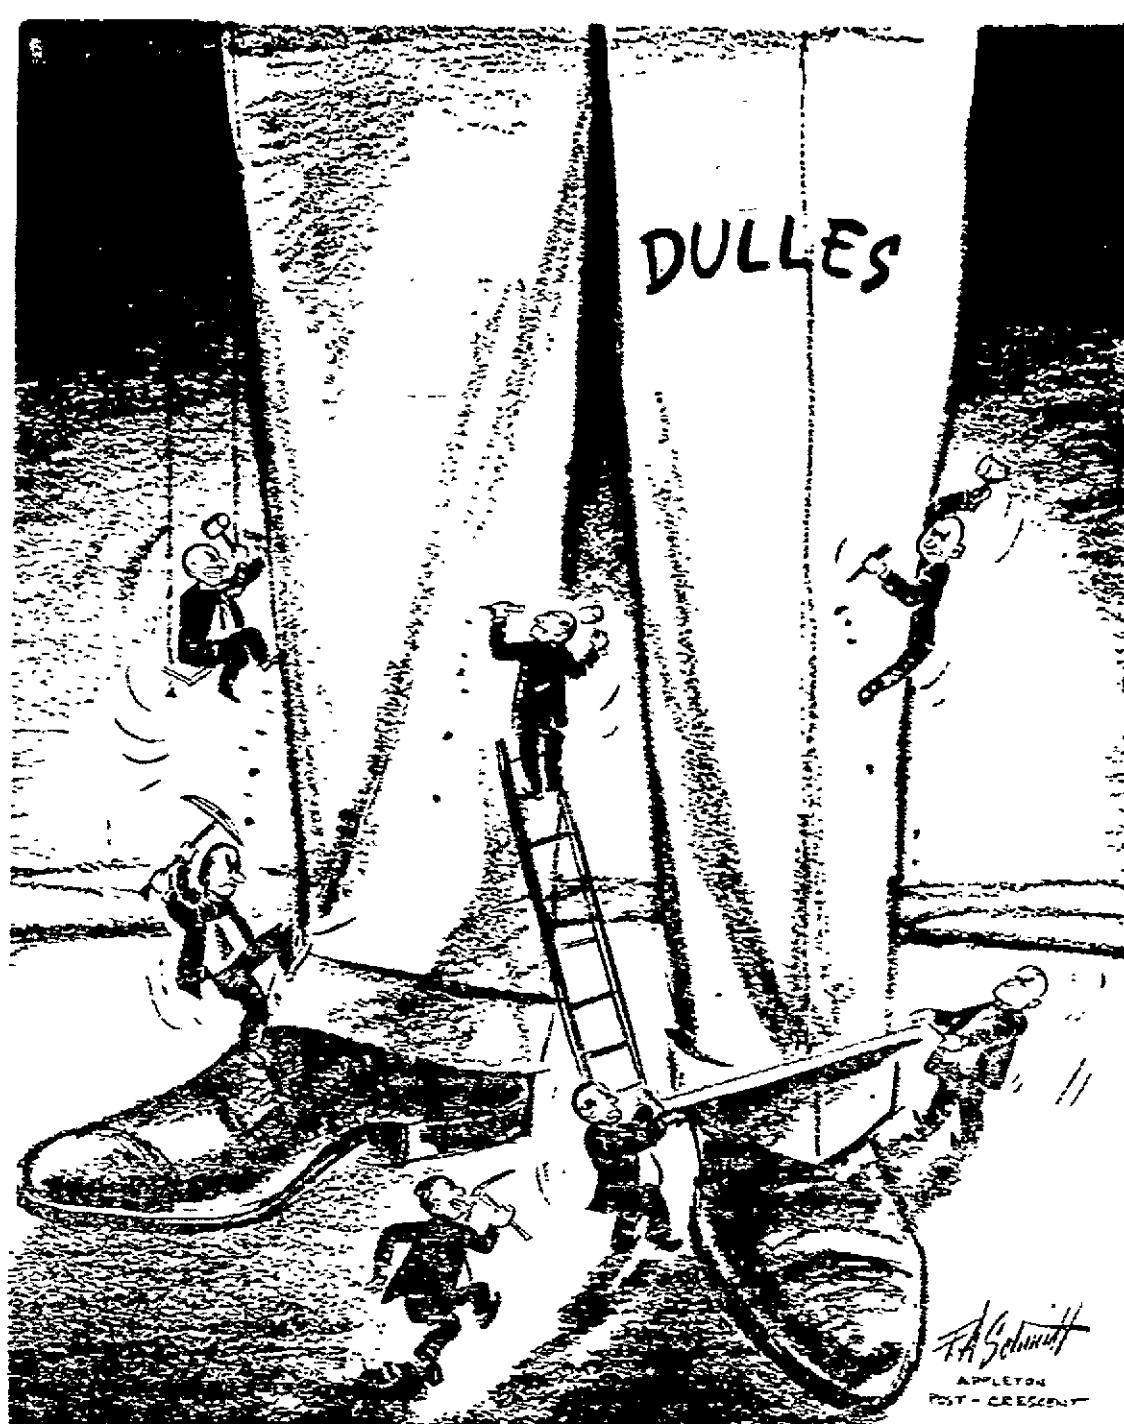

Many of the acute problems we now face had their origin well before the turn of the century. While the eight years since the law was enacted represent a substantial period of time, the period is very short when compared to the great number of years during which the progressive and serious degradation of natural waterways took place.

Unsaid, but clearly implied, is the idea that we cannot reasonably expect to restore our streams and lakes to the state of naturalness and chemical purity they may have had when the first sturdy Dutch colonists peopled New York, or when the first bold Frenchmen occupied the Fox Valley centuries ago.

All that is not to say that we ought not to proceed as effectively as our circumstances require, and according to the objective meaning of the law.

But we cannot depart from the Twentieth century, or erase the fact that pollution started three centuries or more ago, that our Wisconsin rivers accommodate the industries that are the economic bloodstream of the state, and that urban communities are not compatible with leaping trout and glistening bass. Parenthetically, we usually remember in this context that when the first Frenchmen met the Indian natives in this part of the world the latter passed on a decidedly uncompromising description of the odoriferous qualities of Green Bay. They called it "Stinking Waters." The Fox river then, as now, was a tributary.

Lilliputians at Work

These Days

Joe Warned in 1955 That Reds Might Take Lead in ICBM Race

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY
(Copyright, 1958)

I have before me three items:

1. A volume issued by the United States government printing office entitled "Memorial Services Held in the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States. Together With Remarks Presented in Eulogy of Joseph Raymond McCarthy . . ." issued in 1957.

2. An item from The New York Times, dated Dec. 16, 1957, in which Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, President of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, proposed that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer and Dr. Edward Condon be "reinstated" as a positive step in aiding this country's "lagging" scientific program." Said Eisendrath: "The time has come to rectify the damage which resulted from the hysterics of McCarthyism. We have matured since those days of sickly panic."

"We must re-examine the process of distrust which led our government to brand loyal and distinguished citizens with the label 'security risk' on the basis of flimsy evidence and unreasonable suspicion."

3. An item from "The Standard Times" of New Bedford, Mass., dated Oct. 31, 1955, reporting a speech which Sen. McCarthy delivered in Boston, in which the newspaper states:

The Warning
"Describing the intercontinental ballistic missile as a 'thinking' land-to-land weapon capable of flying from Russia to most U. S. major cities in half an hour, McCarthy cited a report by Dr. James R. Killian, Jr., president of M. I. T., to the effect that within a short time the communists will be ahead in the ICBM race."

It is hindsight, of course, for some of those who are today shouting about how much we must spend for scientists and engineers and people like that in order to defend ourselves against an enemy who was recognized by Joe McCarthy early enough to have done something about it. His detractors may one day have to defend their own records if not for wilful distortion of the facts, at any rate for mistaken and immature recognition of the truth.

The memorial volume did not make me too happy, for some of those who extolled the senator in death, fought him in life over just these issues which are today paramount among us. Perhaps the most honest speech of all was that of Sen. Mike Mansfield who said:

"Joe McCarthy has left us."

Some of us were in disagreement with him on occasion, but all of us recognized him as a Senator from Wisconsin. It will not be too long when, in the course of events, all of us now in this chamber will join our former colleague."

Sen. Mansfield could not have done less, for after all, Joe McCarthy had been elected to the senate by the people of Wisconsin and anybody had to accept that because it was a fact. Also, all men die.

Wonders Why
And so, I thumb through this volume and wonder why it was issued at all, particularly in the year of the sputnik. For it was the peculiarities of life that McCarthy had no profound knowledge or deep conviction about Russia or Russians or communism or Marxism until he became a member of a senate committee and then its chairman and came across material of espionage which forced him to believe that more harm had been done than the house committee on Un-American activities had brought to the surface. He believed definitely that espionage was abroad in the land.

McCarthy was so profoundly absorbed in this problem, that no other interested him. He studied the whole of Marxist literature, even attempting to learn Russian for more direct access. His friends still believe, in 1958, that had the issue not become confused by the raucous quarrel over the person of McCarthy, we might have saved ourselves the grief of such a speech as President Eisenhower delivered to congress in January of 1958 when he was forced to express a fear that Soviet Russia might pass us in the arms race, a fear which McCarthy expressed in 1955 when it was equally true but gruesomely unpopular.

At any rate, in the senatorial memorial volume nobody libelled the dead; those who currently attempt to blame Joe McCarthy for our alleged lack of scientific brains come very close to libel. Certainly they are on a false premise when they contend that only those have brains who are held to be security risks. That, of course, can amount to defamation of American scientists and engineers who do their work without imperiling their country.

Fire Destroys Shiocton Home

Quoted from the Appleton Post-Crescent for the week of Jan. 18, 1879.

We learn that on Tuesday morning Mr. J. D. Bersch's residence at Shiocton was totally destroyed by fire and not a thing was saved. We also understand that the entire family was absent at the time of the fire. We understand that Mr. James Smith had $1,000 insurance on the building in two of his companies, and Mr. A. L. Smith $1,000 on furniture.

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, was elected president of the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church.

L. C. Sleeper, Herman Hackert, Theodore Brunke and Frank Schneider were elected directors of the First Ward Civic League. William Denstedt and Karl Haugen were reelected.

Fred Petersen was reelected president of the Riverside Cemetery association. Frank J. Harwood was reelected vice president and Joseph Koffend Jr., was renamed secretary-treasurer.

Fred Stoffel was reelected president of Outagamie County bank at the annual meeting of stockholders.

Walter F. Singler, president of the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk pool, spoke at a mass meeting of Fond du Lac county farmers.

Albert Hapke, Milwaukee, who recently was awarded a Yale scholarship given by Wisconsin alumni of Yale, was the son of a former Appleton resident, Maude Zonne. The Zonne family resided on Pacific street for a number of years.

The resignation of August Laabs as secretary of the Fox River Municipalities association was to be presented at the meeting of the association at Kimberly Thursday evening.

Mrs. Margie Sornson Malmberg, head librarian at the Appleton Public Library, was named general secretary for the 1948 convention of the Wisconsin Library association which was to be held Oct. 7, 8 and 9 at Madison.

Dewey Zwicker, president of Zwicker Knitting mills, submitted to the city council a request that a lot adjacent to the company buildings on Richmond and Packard streets be included in the zoning ordinance under the local business district.

Reserve army units of the Appleton area were to take over Rainbow Gardens, formerly a dance hall, in ceremonies that evening at the hall.

Friend of McCarthy May Run for Senator

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Madison — State House diary:

Reports reaching Madison indicate that Ray Dittmore, a Milwaukee manufacturer, has toured most of the state and consulted most of the county GOP chairmen about a possible candidacy for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator. Dittmore was a friend of the late Sen. McCarthy.

Robert Johnson of Mondovi, a young farmer, is getting plaudits in the Young Republican organization for his success in organizing chapters in the Ninth congressional district, which has been discouraging territory for Republican aspirations for several years. He is the district chairman of the YGOP.

Christ Seraphim, a young lawyer who has become county Democratic chairman in metropolitan Milwaukee, is a man to watch in Democratic party affairs. Resourceful and dedicated, he is also ambitious.

The Wisconsin Welfare Council is soliciting new membership support on a pledge to campaign for repeal of the new relief residency requirements adopted by the legislature last year, and to uplift relief standards in the state generally. The appeal is signed by Mrs. Otto L. Falk, president.

Three nearby states have taken action to abolish or severely modify their justice of the peace courts. Indiana has abolished the fee system for justices, putting them on a straight salary system. Ohio abolished the justice courts altogether, substituted county courts. Minnesota provided that in the future creation of municipal courts, the justice court will automatically expire.

Abandonment and divorce are among the chief causes of child dependency in Wisconsin, a fact that may occasion some interest in a new enforcement system in Arizona which officials report is saving huge sums in the child relief load of that state. A special unit locates deserting parents, uncovers fraudulent claims, and acts as the investigative arm of the relief administration. Its work has been credited with achieving a considerably lower proportion of child dependency caused by the absence of a parent than is reported for the nation as a whole.

The gubernatorial campaign.

paign in California of Sen. William F. Knowland on the issue is reviving interest elsewhere in "right to work" legislation — to outlaw the closed shop. There are some rumblings in Wisconsin on the subject, and a Milwaukee labor paper reports that a national organization dedicated to such an idea has been collecting contributions in Wisconsin.

Actually, the prospect for a local proposal is dim. The legislature couldn't act until 1959, and Wisconsin politicians on the whole are so nervous about prospects this year that the subject is likely to be suppressed altogether in the campaigns this summer and fall.

The Wisconsin Development Corporation, designed to provide credit to entrepreneurs who cannot find it elsewhere, is now functioning. But its services will be more nominal than real, unless it acquires more capital.

Walter Jensen of Grantsburg, president of the Wisconsin Bankers Association, recently issued a special appeal to fellow bankers of the state to buy stock in the co-operative credit agency sponsored by the state government.

"If all commercial banks and insurance companies would become members," he argued, "Wisconsin could shine bright as a leader in the field of industrial development."

Move Erb Park Playground to Nearby School

Commission Orders Switch Because of Children's Rides

Playground facilities at Erb park will be moved to the Franklin school this summer because of the children's rides arranged for by the park board.

"We had a discipline problem at Erb park and we won't be able to run our program there if the rides are in there," Elmer W. Grover, recreation director, told the recreation commission Tuesday night.

Besides, Grover said, Fourteenth and Fifteenth ward aldermen have been asking him to provide a playground more central to the northeast corner.

Seek Play Space While the move to Franklin school is no answer to the playground needs north of Wisconsin avenue, Grover said, it will help some.

Commissioners endorsed the move after hearing Grover. They also instructed him to sound out Catholic officials about the commission using part of a tract the diocese owns at the southeast corner of N. McDonald street and E. Glendale avenue.

On the same subject, Commissioner Ervin J. Bogan said, and the rest of the commission agreed, that there is little prospect that the Arbutus park ravine will be usable for a playground until it is made level with W. Packard street.

Bogan also said, again with commission agreement, that Bellaire park ravine falls in the same category. The park board, however, has indicated it will do much to fill in the Bellaire ravine.

Commissioner Mrs. Harold OrNSTEIN asked Grover for his

City Planners Okay Part of Mielke Plat

Approval for part of the 137-lot tentative Mielke plat on the city's southeast side was recommended this morning by the city planning commission.

The commission is withholding approval of the plat from E. Taft avenue-south until Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski checks future street alignments.

Dr. E. F. Mielke owns the tract. It is on E. Calumet street east of S. Greenview street.

Building Inspector Walter Bogan was ordered to check will affect the final plat by year.

He also asked advice on how to have the far west end of Pine court vacated.

Commissioners told him to write the council at tonight's meeting, petitioning for vacating of the small street section.

The vacating, they told him, will affect the final plat by year.

Supplies of crayons, paste, pencils and other art materials will be furnished by Smith's School Supply for $80.80. Sylvester and Nielsen, Inc., quoted $95.28 for the supplies.

Pond was awarded the contract for archery supplies, with a quote of $246.45. It was the low bid. Berggren Brothers Sport Shop asked $334.90.

Pond also was awarded the contract for baseball, basketball, ping-pong, football, volleyball, badminton and soccer equipment. Pond quoted $1,033.01; Berggren, $1,153.20.

Diamond Replicas are Displayed at Annual
Guest Night Program

District Attorney Rules Local Restrictions Take Precedence Over County Zoning Laws

Chilton — The Calumet county board Tuesday moved unanimously to accept the decision of District Atty. Franklin J. Schmieder said that he had been ruling that the town of Harrison has primary jurisdiction in the matter of rezoning a strip of agricultural land located just south of the Appleton city limits for use as a trailer court.

The issue has been under consideration since late August when Edon A. Schultz petitioned the County Park commission and town of Harrison officials to rezone the area so he could erect a mobile home court.

Building was started before all legal aspects on zoning had been clarified.

At a November board session, Schultz stated that the mobile home court would be a permanent structure and that he expected to invest more than $500,000 in land and improvements.

In giving his decision to the supervisors, Schmieder said that there is nothing in the county zoning ordinance to prevent the building of a permanent mobile home court.

The Harrison ordinance is more restrictive, however, and therefore should take precedence," Schmieder said.

Anti-U. S. Spirit Almost Fad But Asia Wants Technicians

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

New York—A tall, blond man, very drunk, tore a Bangkok nightclub apart one evening. The press in Thailand's capital quickly identified him as a crazy American. He wasn't. He was a Dane.

But Americans get blame for practically everything in South-east Asia. Anti-Americanism is almost a fad.

However, there's another side to the picture. Take Indonesia, for example. In that Asian nation, threatened ominously by mounting communist strength, American technicians are often the best ambassadors of the United States.

So says James Baird, chief of the international cooperation administration program for Indonesia. He adds that more American technicians are wanted in that sprawling, strategically important island nation.

The ICA in Washington is planning an increase in "third country" specialists who would be hired by the United States to work with American experts. For example, West German doctors might be assigned to jobs in Iran, their salaries paid out of counterpart funds in local currencies. The ICA is also operating a third country program in Japan, helping Japanese train other nationals in various techniques.

But underdeveloped Asia seems to want mostly good Americans to help build its economies. It does not want nationals of a third country.

Red Experts Wait

Asian leaders say Romanians, Russians and other Iron Curtain experts wait offstage, eager to show their technical assistance wares. They say any reduction in the number of American technicians would likely increase the number of Iron Curtain experts in Asia.

How is the U.S. technical assistance program going in Asia? Here is a look at some of the results:

India—Some time ago Washington ordered a big cut in technical personnel for fiscal 1959. Sharp protests from the U.S. mission in India changed

Second of Series

Washington's mind and the mission was maintained at its present strength of 230, a rise from 64 in 1952.

Indians say they want more Americans in such fields as education, agriculture, engineering and home economics. Most of it has been in farming, trying to put over modern methods.

"The number of U.S. technical personnel, as compared with the task facing our country, is infinitesimal," said an Indian plan commission spokesman. "Therefore, U.S. technicians have created no problems. There has been no criticism of the numbers, even in the left wing press."

Indonesia—ICA Director Baird says the main problem is selection of the "right type" Americans, who work for the love of it and do not gripe about hardships. He admits they are a minority. But to his knowledge, he says, Indonesians do not resent the 160 U.S. technicians stationed among them. Government officials actually urged him to bring in more, to prevent vacancies being filled by communist bloc personnel.

"Indonesia needs more American aid," Baird said, adding that projects now under way are being enthusiastically aided by local officials.

Using Only Minimum

Thailand—Thomas Naughton, ICA program director, says he has the "absolute minimum" of Americans to do the assigned job, a long-range program. Officials say any personnel cut would cause irreparable harm. Thailand benefits from an annual $341 million in U.S. economic aid.

Some Americans openly, if unconsciously, brandish their high living standards. But they are not representative of the 280 contract technicians helping the Siamese build roads and schools, train doctors, teachers and agriculturists. Many for sake the easy living of Bangkok to live in wooden village huts under trying conditions. Others work quietly and effectively in universities, hospitals and government offices, instilling technical know-how.

Indo-China States—U. S. technical personnel in South Vietnam numbers 150. Program directors would like 50 more to train Vietnamese. Currently 548 Vietnamese are training abroad at U. S. expense, but even when this is accomplished, the government feels American technicians will be indispensable. They don't want nationals of any other country. Officials say Americans have their "full sympathy and understanding."

In Laos, government sources say they are pleased with American technicians. A reduction would make it imperative to turn elsewhere. The government does not want to.

In Cambodia, U. S. aid, totaling more than $104 million since mid-1955, is called indispensable to the nation's financial stability. Half the aid has been military. Americans as about hardships. He admits signed to technical projects included many who at first seemed indifferent, but today, says South Korea—This country has an annual billion-dollar U. S. aid program, of which $215 million aid," Baird said, adding that projects now under way

Actually, the program is said to

Illustrated Book On Nature Added To Public Library

An illustrated story on nature by Holling C. Holling has been added to the children's room of the Appleton public library and is available for circulation now.

Other additions are "The Sweet Patootie Doll" by Calhoun, "Harold's Trip to the Sky" by Johnson, "James and the Rain" by Kuskin, "In John's Back Yard" by Meeks, "Firearms by Winchester" by Colby, "Rockets Through Space" by Del Rey, "Cavalry Hero: Casimir Pulaski" by Adams, "Bowleg Bill, Seagoing Cowpuncher" by Fleton, "Meet North Africa" by Gunther, "Walt Disney's Secrets of Life" by Platt, "Men of Medicine" by Shippen, "Treasures of the Medranos" by Atkins, "The Cave of Spears" by Dobler, "Glass House at James-town" by De Rey, "The Seven Sapphires" by Dunlop, "Kor and the Wolf Dogs" by Green, "Swamp Cat" by Kjellgaard, "Mr. Peabody's Pesky Ducks" by Sharfman and "Danny Dun on a Desert Island" by Williams.

be understaffed. In technical assistance, $5.6 million for fiscal 1958 went to a program concentrating on refugee resettlement, sanitation, health, irrigation and housing. It employs 30 Americans who, Korean officials say, are vital to effective operation of the program. Public sentiment is a mixture of appreciation and disappointment at the lack of immediately visible results.

Japan—This is not an underdeveloped country. But a U.S. technical aid program, budgeted in 1957 at $1,890,000, operates a "third country program." A force of 16 Americans helps Japan train other nationals for aid programs. It's a small, efficient, unpublicized project. There are no problems over the presence of American technical personnel.

He did say his aims are completely objective, and he noted that he will remain as commander-in-chief for no more than the next three years.

Asked whether he intends to stay right squarely on the job fight for his defense reorganization plans, Eisenhower replied that he is striving to put an effective plan before Congress. He said he expects the plan to touch off arguments, but his views will be expressed as best he can.

Sees Party Unity
In his belief, Eisenhower said, the solidarity of the Republican party is far stronger than some people believe. He made that statement when asked to what extent he intends to engage in the party drive.

Chicago — H. R. Crane, head of a science group which favors building the world's largest atom smasher in Wisconsin, said Tuesday he under- stands the question of the site.

device, reportedly favors locat- ing the machine at the Argonne National laboratories outside Chicago.

Crane made the comment at a meeting in which the 15 mid- west universities participating in MURA heard an encourag- ing report on the feasibility of building the atom smasher. The University of Wisconsin is a member of the association.

Idea Feasible
Dr. Keith R. Symon, techni- cal director of MURA, told the quarterly meeting:

"All of the experiments so far have borne out our original expectations and it is now fairly clear that it is feasible to construct a crashing beam ac- celerator."

The smasher would circulate beams of protons in opposite directions and then hurl them together into a mighty collision producing energy in the trillion- volt range.

Crane said the latest techni- cal progress in designing a model of the proposed smasher will be submitted to the AEC as at Madison.

Board Changes Pay System of Sheriff

Votes $3,000 Raise, End of Legal Fees; Leaves Jail Under His Office

After discussions which started last fall and a battle over civil legal paper fees which has been going on for years, Outagamie county supervisors Tuesday ended any payment of fees to the sheriff.

Heinritz

Supervisors gave the sheriff's office a $3,000 annual raise—to $8,000 and took away the fees, which will now be paid to the county. However, the supervisors left the feeding of prisoners in the county jail in the sheriff's hands. The sheriff purchases food for the prisoners and bills the county at 60 cents per meal.

Supervisors' discussion of the change was highlighted by a plea by Sheriff Donald Heinritz for a "half-way decent salary so you'll get competent men for the job."

Heinritz, after considerable discussion, agreed with several supervisors that the new pay scale was sufficient.

Appleton Supv. John R.

Schreiter, a member of the board's salary committee, was the lone dissenting vote for the new salary plan.

Changed Offer
The salary committee initially recommended that the sheriff's salary be set at $9,000 annually with all fees paid the county and putting the purchase of food for prisoners in the county's jurisdiction. It was changed by Appleton Supv. Alois Fischer's amendment.

Heinritz began his remarks by saying that the salary committee had never talked to him and he thought its members should find out about the office from its incumbents.

Appleton Supv. Sylvester Esler, the salary group chairman, told Heinritz that he'd talked to former sheriffs and had been on the board 25 years and knew enough about the office.

Heinritz told the board that he, personally, had nothing to gain, since his term ends in about 11 months and nothing the board does can affect him.

The change in salary can be accepted by Heinritz, otherwise it takes effect Jan. 1, 1959.

Heinritz warned supervisors that if they didn't make the salary attractive, they would get a "conniver — a crook. Then, you're opening yourselves and that office for an investigation and no one can stand an investigation, I don't care who they are."

"Out In Street"
"You have to remember that the sheriff isn't under civil service. I run for a 2-year term and the longest I can serve is four years in one stretch, then I'm out in the street."

"Some people seem to think there's a hidden income in this office, but there isn't. If you put the salary at $8,000, take the legal fees and leave the meals with the office, I think it will be enough. You pay 60 cents for a meal, and that doesn't leave much for making a profit," Heinritz declared.

Questioned about whether the $3,000 increase was about the salary change but board members voted it down in an overwhelming voice vote.

Papers Circulated For Clarence Wolf As Brillion Mayor

Brillion — Nomination papers are being circulated for Clarence Wolf as mayor and Florian Pfeffer for reelection as alderman in the Third ward.

Howard Leppla's term as mayor expires. Other offices open this year include Aldermanic posts of John Mumm in the First ward and Clarence Wolf, Second ward. Nelson Haller's term as justice of the peace also expires.

Papers must be filed with the city clerk by 5 o'clock Tuesday evening, Jan. 28.

Appleton Supv. Glenn Pelton wanted a secret ballot on the salary change but board members voted it down in an overwhelming voice vote.

Supervisor Tires of Raises, Asks One for County Board, Too

After spending most of Tuesday on the business of governing the county, Outagamie county supervisors faced the prospect of having to vote on a raise for themselves.

Schade

The resolution wasn't phrased correctly and had to be put off for a month or two.

After watching raises for several county officers become fact before his eyes, Appleton Supv. Desmond Schade late in the afternoon and proposed the supervisors give themselves the maximum daily pay allowed under the state law — $16. At present supervisors are paid

Schade began with a $48 annual raise for supervisors, figuring $4 for each meeting, one meeting a month.

But, as Bovina Supv. Ervin Conrad pointed out, sometimes the board meets more than one day. "What'll we do then, get $16 for the first day and $12 for the rest," asked the board, collectively.

All in all, pointed out Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer, the resolution wasn't phrased so that it could possibly take effect before next April, the start of new supervisor terms. "You have to have the emergency part of the state statute as part of the resolution to make it effective now," Fulcer cautioned Schade.

Undaunted, Schade suggested

Appleton Post-Crescent 13 Wednesday, Jan. 15, 1958

that he rephrase his resolution to include this.

"I think we can all wait a month or two — let's do it legally, let's study it a while and send the idea to the salary committee," counseled Freedom Supv. Joseph J. Weyers. The board agreed.

Nomination Papers

Seymour — R. C. Schultz has taken out nomination papers for the office of mayor. Other papers are being circulated for Miss Corinne Huth for treasurer and Mrs. Josephine Marnocha for city clerk.

Lawrence Says:
Reuther Profit
Plan Doesn't
Mention Losses

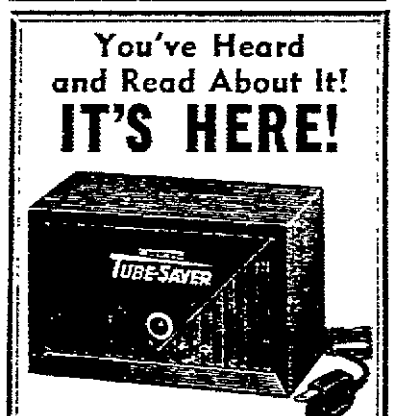

Proposal Offers No Pledge That Workers Will Boost Production

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers union, has launched what seems on the surface to be an alluring idea. He wants labor to share in the profits of the auto industry. But he did not say anything about sharing the losses.

ness because they would be of no help when business faltered. The auto union chief, in effect, asks to have all the workers given the status of "owners" even though they do not contribute a nickel to buy plant and equipment or risk anything, as do the investors who must take losses of dividends when business is bad and even see their stock depreciate on the market.

The new plan, presented as a basis for "collective bargaining" by the leader of the auto workers union, does not promise that the workers will increase the productivity of the company and help to reduce the total cost of making an automobile. No pledge of any kind is offered that the workers will give anything in return for their extra pay. Reuther talks as if the employees were entitled to a share of the profits no matter what they do on the production line.

This is a bold concept that comes nearer to wanting to confiscate somebody else's property than anything union labor has ever proposed.

Schemes Not New

Profit-sharing schemes are not new. Many businesses have them for executives as an incentive. But the word "incentive" has a specific meaning. Unless it can be shown that the executives are helping to increase the company's volume of sales and are efficiently operating the company's affairs, they do not deserve a bonus. The U. S. Internal revenue service allows a tax deduction for services actually rendered, and it doesn't permit any deduction for gifts to employees.

Dividends to stockholders are not deductible for tax purposes and are paid out of the 48 per cent of net income left after paying the government's 52 per cent tax. Yet Reuther lumps dividends to stockholders and bonuses in the same category, which he says can be paid out of "profits before taxes." There really isn't any such thing.

Uncle Sam has a legal hold on 52 per cent of net income, and only the remainder is really "profits." It's that remainder which must be big enough to maintain the business itself year after year. To determine the amount needed for this is a management function and not subject to "collective bargaining" with non-owners.

Another Rebate

As for individual purchasers of automobiles, Reuther suggests that another 25 per cent of net income after normal expenses be given as a "rebate" to past customers. This would be a "gift." The motor companies would have difficulty justifying as a tax reduction any such rebate in the year 1959 for cars sold to the public in 1958 in a transaction regarded by both buyer and seller as previously closed.

It's a fantastic scheme for intensifying inflation. It emphasizes the greed idea and completely ignores the humanitarian side—what should be done to take care of the many workers who are being laid off because inflationary schemes have resulted in a severe recession and hardship to members of Reuther's own union. When unions acquire statesmen who are not socialists and who understand what has really made America's economic system prosper in the past, there will be hope for an increasing share for the workers—higher wages earned through increased productivity per man per hour all along the line.

Foot in Typewriter

Reader Questions Job Done by Daly, ABC-TV

BY JINGO

It appears Jingo, trying to put his best foot forward at the start of a brave, new year, stuck it in his typewriter.

On Jan. 3, Jingo wrote that John Daly and ABC-TV crew had done the best job of the three major networks in rounding up the major news stories of 1957.

Now comes a reader who wishes anonymity to offer an open letter to Daly re the same subject. Says our reader to Daly:

"I sat through your program about 1957 to find out what you had in mind. I found you wanted to make sure we are not complacent. Your program tore down the accomplishments of the U. S. and built up the Soviets with the idea, of course, that everyone in the U. S. is stupid. We know, even better than you, that people live in Russia and that they have schools and that they have scientists. We also know the U. S. has schools, students and scientists. You attempted to put over the idea that 1957 was a year of devastation for the U. S. I just don't believe it. Our scientists have been working just as hard as the scientists of other countries, including Russia. I had the feeling that you tried to make out that the Republicans, like and Nixon were incompetent, that we need something which you never did get to. "If the Russians are so good, how did they arrive at this in 1957. We never heard you tell about it before. How come you just now discovered it? I don't want to underestimate the accomplishments of the Russians. They are wonderful. We have your word for it. "But, we are wonderful, too. We have scientists. We were the first to develop the atom bomb and the H-bomb and, presumably, we have them stockpiled, at least two or three of them. We have missiles, intermediate ones to be sure, but if we fire them from subs or ships or nations within range of Russia, they will be just as effective as the ICBMs certainly. Especially if we have more of them. "And, then, you being a reporter, you must have heard of the SAC. If you haven't, we have planes, with atom bombs, up in the air at all times. I hear tell a third of our SAC is in the air at all times, fully armed. Certainly this is something you should have mentioned if you had any desire to be fair. "Finally, I got a great kick out of the expressions on the faces of your commentators as they gave us the very grave news that Russia is so far superior to the U. S. Next program, I suppose you will give the routine that when the Russians claimed the telephone and electric lights and just about everything else, they really did invent them."

County to Pay $37,798,000 In Federal Tax

Amount Is About 2.5 Per Cent of State Tax Load

Outagamie county taxpayers will be required to pay about $37,798,000 in federal taxes as their share of President Eisenhower's $33,900,000,000 spending program. The estimate was announced by Andre J. Perry, Madison, president of the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce.

The county will pay approximately 2.495 per cent of the state's federal tax load. This percentage is based on the ratio of state income tax collections for each county to total collections from all individuals and corporations in the state.

Outagamie county's share of the federal tax bill compares to the $6,463,438 paid in property taxes in 1957.

Further analysis by the state chamber shows Wisconsin's share of the proposed U. S. budget is several times the cost of operating state and local governments for the '57 fiscal year.

Compared to the state financial picture in 1957, the Wisconsin federal tax bill of $1,515,000,000 is 2.09 times greater than all tax collections by state, municipalities, counties and school districts in Wisconsin, which totaled $726,523,216; 4.34 times greater than the $349,346,651 in property taxes collected by all governmental units in the state; 8.7 times greater than the $174,080,535 in taxes collected for state operations.

Local Cartage Drivers Okay New Contract

3-Year Pact Gives Them 42-Cent Raise, Base Pay of $2.24

Local cartage drivers, members of Local 563 of the Teamsters, Tuesday night approved their contract with truckers for a 42-cent raise over the next three years.

Over-the-road drivers approved the contract Sunday. About 350 men in this area are affected by the contract. The men receive a 10-cent raise Feb. 1 and 3-cent boosts on the same date in 1959 and 1960. Pension and health and welfare payments by employers also are boosted.

The base rate for cartage drivers is $2.24, a cent more than the over-the-road drivers. Local cartage drivers are those delivering freight within a 25-mile radius of Appleton. The cartage contract also limits the wage differential to 10 cents between each of three classifications—drivers, checkers and dock men. This section of the contract does not apply to Appleton at present and is designed more for metropolitan terminal areas. Robert Schlieve, secretary-treasurer of Local 563, said.

The local cartage drivers also voted to send a letter expressing their appreciation to James Hoffa, Teamster president-elect, for negotiating the contract and pledging their support to him.

County Board OK's New Trip Policy

Outagamie county supervisors Tuesday voted to change their policy on allowing elected officials and employees to attend conferences at county expense.

The board will no longer have to vote on each conference as long as it is within the department's budget. Trips will be approved by the committee having jurisdiction over each department. If the trip cost is over the budgeted amount of a department, the entire board will have to vote on the trip. The move was designed to cut down the time spent on approving trips during the county board meeting and the cost of publishing the board minutes, Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer said.

Postmaster Heads County Fund Drive

Francis H. Sumnicht, acting Appleton postmaster, has been named chairman of the Outagamie county federal service campaign.

The campaign was established last year to minimize and consolidate fund solicitations among federal employees. Fund raising committees will be set up representing employees and management. Employees can contribute to any or all of nine national health agencies represented in the program.

Health agencies participating in the drive, which opens Wednesday and ends Feb. 15, are American Cancer society, American Heart association, Arthritis and Rheumatism foundation, Muscular Dystrophy association, Multiple Sclerosis society, National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, National Society for Prevention of Blindness, National Association for Mental Health and the United Cerebral Palsy Association.

In accepting the campaign chairmanship Sumnicht said, "The men and women of our federal departments always have shown an awareness of the need to support organizations striving to give every citizen a chance for good health. I am certain Outagamie county federal employees will join wholeheartedly in this effort."

counsel, told County Corporation Counsel Ray Dohr in a letter received this morning of the airline position.

He said: "The examiner erred in certifying Appleton as an intermediate stop on a new route between Minneapolis and Milwaukee. Appleton lies less than 20 miles northeast of Oshkosh and is connected with Oshkosh by a 4-lane superhighway."

"A good part of passengers generated at Oshkosh now originate at or are destined for Appleton. Certification of Appleton on a new route between Minneapolis and Milwaukee would not only dilute and reduce service between Oshkosh and Chicago, but the segment west of Appleton to Minneapolis would be a weak link in the entire operation."

Overfly Green Bay "The examiner erred in failing to find that Appleton should be certificated on North Central's Minneapolis-Green Bay segment No. 4 with authority to overfly Green Bay, Oshkosh and Manitowoc on service to Chicago."

Concerning the CAB-proposed west segment, the attorney had this to say: "The examiner erred in recommending a route between Eau Claire, Marshfield and Appleton. Eau Claire presently has service to Milwaukee via Winona and La Crosse, Madison and via Green Bay. Additional service to Milwaukee can serve only a very minor and limited travel market."

"Marshfield, a city with a 1950 population of 12,394, is served through Wausau and Stevens Point, being 44 and 35 miles away, respectively, from each of the cities. From both Stevens Point and Wausau, Marshfield can receive east-west and north-south service."

Marginal Route "A new east-west route through Marshfield would at best be an extremely marginal route because of the poor traffic potential at Marshfield and because of the multiple service only a short distance away at North Stevens Point and Wausau."

Dohr said the North Central objection would have no effect on the county's petition for state aid in constructing a cross runway and administration building at the county port.

Former Missionary in China for 30 Years Dies in Wittenberg

Mrs. Oscar Hellestad, 81, wife of a retired Lutheran minister and missionary, died at 1:30 Monday afternoon in Wittenberg.

Mrs. Hellestad served as a missionary of the Evangelical Lutheran church in China for 30 years and her pastor husband served for 32 years. They met in China and were married there in 1913. The couple returned to the United States in 1949 and lived in Scandinavia until 1955 when they made their home at the Lutheran home for the aged at Wittenberg.

She was born Nov. 12, 1876, in Trysil, Norway, coming to this country when she was 6 years old.

Funeral services will be at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Scandinavia Lutheran church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the Voie Funeral home, Iola, from noon Thursday until noon Friday and then at the church.

Besides her husband, survivors are two brothers and a sister, all of South Dakota, Einar, Mrs. Inga Haanstad.

Outagamie county supervisors, tired and wanting to adjourn after a long session Tuesday, were briefly cheered at the end of their meeting. They had voted raises to several elected officials and faced a suggestion for a raise for themselves. Then Corporation Counsel Raymond Dohr told them the county was getting a gift instead of being asked for something. It seems that the estate of Kitty Grignon, being probated in Brown county, includes a bequest to the county. It is described as a "horse-hair sofa of quite some size and massiveness." It may be destined for the Grignon home in Kaukauna, but the board members didn't have enough energy to decide Tuesday.

11 Drivers Pay for Traffic Violations

Eleven drivers have been fined or forfeited bonds on traffic charges in municipal court. Four were fined for speeding and were assessed three points each. They are:

Wayne E. Sager, 21, 221 E. Seventh street, Kaukauna, fined $15.
Victor F. Spahn, 500 S. Lake street, Neenah, $15.
Joseph H. Verhoven, 22, route 2, Shiocton, $10.
Robert F. Pansch, 20, 730 Congress place, Neenah.

Other cases include: Eugene H. Van Asten, 16, 824 Jackson street, Little Chute, driving a motor scooter without registration, license revoked for 30 days and ordered to pay court costs.

Pierre Brothers, route 1, Shiocton, truck license overload, forfeited $13.20.
James C. Jochman, 18, 1209 N. State street, failure to signal turn, $10, three points.
Ronald R. Strasser, 24, Wausau, passing on hill, forfeited $13.20, three points.
Reginald C. Corbelle, 23, route 4, Green Bay, failure to stop for red light, $10, three points.

William L. Anderson, 22, 6201 N. Morrison street, following too closely, forfeited $13.20, three points.

Henry F. Bongle, 64, Sturgeon Bay, failure to yield right of way, forfeited $18.20, three points.

The Wisconsin Michigan Power company has purchased land and easements extending from McCarty's crossing, northeast of Kaukauna, to a point south of Neenah from the Wisconsin Public Service corporation, according to records at the office of Stephen M. Peeters, Outagamie county register of deeds.

Purchase price was about $56,000.

Wisconsin Michigan will use the transmission lines on the right-of-way to transmit 33,000 volts of electricity to Kimberly and Kaukauna. The added transmission will supplement the two cities' present power supply.

Wisconsin Public Service corporation used the lines for transmission, but abandoned them.

Other property transfers recorded at Peeters' office included:

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Furringer to Chester J. Meiers, lots in Appleton.
Mr. and Mrs. Chester J. Meiers to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Furringer, a lot in Appleton.
Mr. and Mrs. John H. Van Derra to Marie Fitzpatrick, a parcel of land in Appleton.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Thatcher to Mr. and Mrs. Cyril J. Hem, a lot in Appleton.

Scout Program Set in Kimberly

Cub and Boy Scout projects and programs will be discussed at an East District scout roundtable meeting at Holy Name school in Kimberly Thursday night, Fred Sordahl, valley scout council field executive said today.

The meeting is scheduled for 7 o'clock at night.

Norbert Driesang, Kimberly, East District commissioner, is in charge of the program. Carl Tickler and Thomas Reed, both of Seymour, will lead the discussion.

Tax Ruling on Imports May Go To High Court

State Tribunal Holds Products Subject to Levy

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — The right of localities and states to tax imported raw materials, an issue that has accounted for lawsuits since the earliest days of the republic, is probably headed for the United States supreme court again as a result of a judgment of the state supreme court in a case brought by an Algoma plywood manufacturer.

The court, in a close 4-3 decision, sustained the right of the Algoma city assessor to put on the personal property tax roll of the city a part of the imported veneer stocks held by the company. The court affirmed an original judgment of Circuit Judge Edward Duquaine of the Brown county circuit court, to which the United States Plywood corporation brought its protest.

Heretofore the rule has been — backed by a long line of judicial precedents — that imported goods in their original packages were immune from state and local taxation under the provisions of the United States constitution prohibiting the levying of duties or imposts by the states on imports.

Discriminatory
Justice E. L. Wingert, speaking for the narrow majority of the Wisconsin court, has attempted to refine that rule to the extent that such proportions of imported goods, as determined by local assessors, that are a part of the operations process of a manufacturing or other business are subject to local taxation. Stock-piles of materials needed for current operations, the court held, should not be exempt, for to give them immunity would be discriminatory with respect to domestic goods used by businessmen.

The point is a fine one, and the majority opinion conceded that it might lead to administrative difficulties by tax assessors. But Justice Wingert said the alternative of total exemption of wrapped imports "would be too mechanical and artificial."

It is regarded as almost certain here that the issue will be carried to the United States supreme court and especially as the Wisconsin court was so unsure of the law as to divide by the ratio of four to three.

Broader Tax Power
The argument takes on importance everywhere in Wisconsin because if the new interpretation of the Wisconsin court is finally upheld, it will broaden the taxing powers of localities considerably.

It would also affect many other manufacturers throughout the state, according to taxing authorities, and would probably become more important in the future if imports of foreign raw materials are enlarged as a result of the improvement of the St. Lawrence seaway.

The personal property tax in the state is largely borne by manufacturers, merchants and farmers. It is one of the basic revenue resources of the state and its localities, and currently accounts for nearly a fifth of all property tax yields.

Four Young Artists. Sponsored by the Pittsburg New Friends of Music, will appear in concert at 8:15 Thursday night in Peabody hall of the Lawrence conservatory of music. The group is being brought here by Pi Kappa Lambda society. From the left are Richard Osiier, pianist; James Lumberger, counter-tenor; Roger Drinkall, cellist; and James Wilson, clarinetist. Tickets are at Bellings, the conservatory office, and at the door on the evening of the concert.

Counter-Tenor, Rare In World of Music, Member of Quartet

A rarity in the musical world, a counter-tenor, will appear with the Concert Artists of the Pittsburgh New Friends of Music group when the ensemble presents a benefit concert at 8:15 Thursday night in Peabody hall of the Lawrence conservatory of music.

The singer is James Lumberger, who has been hailed by critics as one of the "greatest young singers to follow in the footsteps of leader singer Roland Hayes," and is one of three counter-tenors presently known to the musical world. Lumberger is a native of Greensburg, Pa., and has been associated with the Concert Artists group for two years, under the tutelage of Eunice Norton. He made his professional debut in Carnegie hall in Pittsburgh during a Mozart festival.

Not Unchanged Voice

A counter-tenor is not to be thought of as an unchanged voice. Grove's Musical Dictionary comments, "A true counter-tenor of high range is a naturally produced voice, using head resonance. The tone quality of the high counter-tenor is difficult to describe, but it is an essentially masculine voice, and at its best is clear, flexible and incisive." Lumberger's voice has been described as an alto sound in a soprano range.

In recent years, counter-tenor music has been revived in England, notably by Alfred Deller, who has also been heard widely in this country. One of the most famous counter-tenors of all time was composer Henry Purcell, who wrote theatrical music for male soprano. The vast repertoire of music, from Purcell to Handel and Bach take on a new significance when it is sung by the voice for which it was written, rather than by mezzo-soprano and contralto.

List Program

Principal item to be performed by the singer is Schubert's song "Der Hirt auf dem Felsen," or "Shepherd on the Rocks." It is written for soprano and clarinet, and was created for the 19th century singer Anna Milder, who sang it for the first time in Riga in 1830. The shepherd apparently plays interludes upon a shawm, (in this case, the sound of the clarinet), and at the end the work blossoms into a duet between the human and instrumental voices, rejoicing at the coming of spring.

Other performers in the ensemble are Richard Osiier, pianist; James Wilson clarinetist; and Roger Drinkall, cellist.

The complete program, sponsored by Pi Kappa Lambda fraternity, follows:

Man Mourns Disappearance of Comfortable-Looking Women

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: Since everyone seems to cry on your shoulder, I'm going to do so, too. Mine is not a personal problem, but a general one that affects all American men and for eign male visitors, as well.

What has happened to the well-upholstered, voluptuous American woman? Where are those well-rounded, comfortable-looking females we used to see?

Ann Landers

Today's average, style-conscious American woman looks consumptive and anemic. Her cheeks are hollow and she's got a caved-in-front and nothing to sit on. Her shoulder-blades stick out like swords and a good wind would blow her out of town.

Where do women get the notion that THIS is beauty? Every mother in her 40's is starving so she can weigh less than her teenage daughter. They don't eat a piece of bread from one year to the next. Please, Ann, mention this in your column. This NEEDS to be said.—HIPS HIPS HOORAY

P.S. How much do you weigh Ann?

I agree that many American women could give Casius cards and spades when it comes to "that lean and hungry look" and it's not very appetizing. I'd be happy to spear-head a drive to encourage women to look more like their grandmothers instead of their grandfathers. Suggested menu for dinner tonight. Ladies: Spaghetti with rasiola.

French bread and cherry-pie a la mode!

DEAR ANN: My aunt thinks she knows everything. Some of the statements she makes are really way out there. She spends her time reading and going to lectures, but I think she's half baked most of the time.

She told us the other evening that weather often controls the decisions of people and shapes their lives because it regulates their moods. I'm only a junior in high school—but I can't swallow this tripe. Is this topic important enough to be in your column? (My mossy old aunt swears by you.)—LIONEL

Dear Lionel: Your "mossy old aunt" is correct. It's a fact that people are more irritable and "on edge" when the barometer is low. Before a storm, they are more quarrelsome and less efficient. They are more likely to break engagements, quit jobs and start divorce proceedings.

On dreary, cloudy days, the suicide rate is higher and more people are "sick in bed". When the weather is bright people are more cheerful, they spend more money, and work more efficiently. Don't YOU feel better when the sun is shining, Lionel? Of course you do — and so does everyone else.

DEAR ANN: I know space is always a problem in a newspaper, and particularly in a column such as yours, so I'm boiling my problem down to one sentence because I'd like an answer in the paper so HE can see it.

How long do you think an engagement should last when the woman is 30 and the man is 37? —BAITED BREATH

Dear Baited: Not long.

Beauty This Exercise For Slimming

By Marian Matthews

Question.—My waistline measures about three inches larger than it should. How can I reduce this area without altering my bustline and hipline measurements which are really quite good?

Answer.—I suggest you exercise your waistline by bending and touching your toes. This in time should help whittle it down. Touch toes without bending knees — do this about 10 times at first and work up to 30 or more. Stretch as you work about the house or office each day too. Try to reach, whenever possible, anything on a shelf or at the back of a table or desk. Every motion should count for figure beauty.

Query On Hair

Question.—How should I wear my hair? My face is small and my chin is rounded and one of my best features.

Answer.—I think you would find wearing your hair back from the face most flattering. Simple coiffures with hair brushed back over the ears permits your face to be seen without detracting from features in any way. The hair-do that sweeps hair back from the face helps underscore a pretty chin-line, too. Try this whether hair is short or long. Actually, shorter hair is more becoming with a little face for it doesn't overpower it as will longer hair. Really long hair pulled back into a chignon bun would be pretty for you too but don't let the bun get too large.

With Hazel Eyes

Question.—My eyes are hazel-colored. What color shadow and what color lipstick should I wear?

Answer.—Eyeshadow in green, brown or deep blue could all be worn since gray eyes give you a wide choice. Try a few to determine which color you prefer. Lipstick in the clear bright reds might be best for you though I don't feel you need worry about keying it to your eyes. Pretty shades that brighten the complexion generally will enhance the sparkle of your eyes, it is true, but choose your lipstick colors for complexion and wardrobe colors.

BY LEDGERWOOD SLOAN

Dallas —?— Jayne Mansfield, a bright-eyed actress who didn't let grandpappy's fortune keep her from dipping into Hollywood's golden coffers, flew out of her old hometown today with her new husband.

Jayne and her Hungarian-born bridegroom, Mickey Hargitay, 29, are off for a honeymoon in Miami after a hectic two days of wedding activities which through news media was generously shared with the world. The 24-year-old actress and her muscular bridegroom, a onetime "Mr. Universe," will open a nightclub engagement Feb. 7 in Las Vegas.

The gala wedding activities were climaxed yesterday with a reception for about 80 friends at the home of Jayne's mother and her step-

Spend Wisely in '58

Here's How to Plan Budget

"Where does the money go?"

How often did you ask yourself that question in 1957? And as another new year arrives, you are all set with good resolutions for doing a better job with each 1958 paycheck.

If you really want your dollars to do more for you, here's how, according to the money management institute of a finance corporation:

1. Establish a money management council in your family. Include all children of spending age and decide among you what things are really important to you. This is the basis for establishing goals for achieving from your income the things you want, individually and as a family.

Record All Spending

2. Set up regular meeting dates, weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly, depending on your paydays. The children will love being on the family board of finance, but be sure and explain to them that family financial affairs are confidential.

3. For a period of two to four weeks, have each member of the family keep an individual expense record of all spending. Before anyone can decide how to improve spending, they must know where the money has been going. Keeping an expense record is only temporary, but it is the only way to discover your pattern of spending.

4. Make a one-year forecast of fixed expenses—items which must be paid regularly, such as rent or mortgage payments, installment obligations, interest, insurance, taxes and assessments, car registration and license fees, school tuition, membership dues, et cetera. Add them all together and divide by 12, 26 or 52, depending on how many paydays there are in a year. This will give you the amount you need to set aside each payday to take care of fixed expenses.

5. Follow the same technique in figuring your flexible expenses. These are the items which vary in cost from time to time, such as clothing, home furnishings, contributions to church and charity, medical and dental care, family recreation, gifts and entertainment.

Have everyone help with these. It will prove a fine education in money management for every family member.

6. Figure day-to-day living costs (food, household operation, laundry, car operation expenses, transportation and personal allowances) in the same way. Personal allowances are important for each family member, but each one should understand exactly what his allowance is to cover, where he has spending choices and where he doesn't.

Once the plan is established, check it at regular money management council meetings to see how it is working. You may need to make changes to get your budget operating exactly as you want it to. A few spending habits may require change. Patience, willingness and a little self-discipline may be needed. If this is recognized, a budget can be a challenge and readjustments will come easily as more and more goals are reached.

The Family Council

When Sisters Wed, Mom Should Know Futures May be Unequal

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. R. D. — Ellen should help her sister.

Ellen M. — Terry is jealous.

Mrs. R. D. — I am very much concerned about my two married daughters.

Ellen is married to a successful businessman. She is very well off. She and her children have beautiful clothes and all kinds of luxuries. Terry is married to an ordinary workman. They have barely enough to get by. Terry works her fingers to the bone and can't even take a day off for a little fun.

The girls were always good friends as children, but they have grown far apart. I feel that Ellen should make more of an effort to do things for her sister. It would mean nothing to her to take Terry out occasionally. She could also do things for the children. Why shouldn't sisters help one another when they are in a position to do so?

Ellen M. — I'm sorry to have to say a thing like this but I do feel that my sister is jealous of me.

For a long time I have tried to get her to come out with me to a snow or to some little function given by my club. She always refuses saying she is too made.

My mother seems to think I should shower Terry and her children with gifts, but I don't think she would like that. She is much too proud.

The Council: We agree with Ellen that Terry would probably prefer not to be showered with gifts. This mother is a little too anxious to equalize her children's material positions. She fails to realize that Terry

New Tables are Trimmed and Trim the Room

New tables themselves take long and slender coffee table, side table, and end table. They are designed to trim the room in new ways. Even the simplest shapes take the contrast of a second wood color or a second material, and many tables are snapped with as much flare as decorative accessories.

The handsome card table sketched gets down to the serious business of growing large enough for four some dining by flipping it's top open to double size, but it catches the eye with circles of ebony black in its natural oil-finished walnut. The

$400 County, Municipal Judges Pay Boost OK'd

Supervisors Up Annual Salaries 10 Per Cent Of $4,000 Asked by Bar Association Members

The salaries of the county's municipal and county judges were raised $400 annually Tuesday by the Outagamie county board.

The board originally had been offered a resolution from the Outagamie County Bar association asking it to give the judges a raise of $4,000 annually, to bring them in line with the salary increase given by the state to the circuit judge.

Outagamie county is one of the few in the state which does not contribute to the salary of the circuit judge serving it.

Staidl, of $4,000 annually, to bring them in line with the salary increase given by the state to the circuit judge.

Present Salary

The county board's salary group recommended a $600 raise for the municipal judge and none for the county judge. Present salaries of both are $9,400.

Appleton Supv. Armin Scheurle offered an amendment to make the salary of both judges the same, in effect also giving the county judge a $600 raise. After New London Supv. Walter F. Fredericks asked why the judges should get $600 when they got a $400 raise last year, Bovina Supv. Ervin Conradt offered an amendment to the resolution to a $400 raise.

Appleton Supv. Douglas C. Evans pointed out that this was the raise given to elected officials by the board during its December meeting.

The new pay scale for the judges takes effect Jan. 1. The board's approval was unanimous with the exception of Kaukauna Supv. J. W. Weyenberg's vote of present.

from $922 to $4,075 and of some 3,500 estates which have passed through his court, only two have been appealed to the supreme court.

The judge added that his work under the relative support statute had saved the county thousands of dollars through court orders to relatives forcing them to pay for the upkeep of relatives who in the past have been wards of the public.

Methodist Will Deliver Sermon At Convocation

"America's Deepening Moral Crisis" will be the topic of the sermon at Lawrence college convocation at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, in Memorial chapel. The speaker is Dr. William H. Kirkland, Methodist clergyman and now associate professor of Christian ethics at McCormick Theological seminary, Chicago. The service will include music by the women's glee club.

This convocation prepares the way for the Religion in Life conference, held at the college early in February, which will deal more extensively with problems of moral decision.

Dr. Kirkland served four years as chaplain of Vassar college. A native of Florida, he did his undergraduate work at Emory university, Ga., then earned a bachelor of divinity degree at Yale divinity school, followed by a Ph.D. in religion from Yale university. Leaders See Concern Over Fund Campaign

Potential for Large Gifts Nearly Gone; Must Depend on Small Donor, Workers Hear

Leaders of the $700,000 Appleton Memorial hospital completion fund campaign have voiced concern over the drive's progress. As the campaign enters its last two weeks, leaders noted contributions have diminished.

"We have raised $52,658 so far," said General Campaign Chairman, Carl J. Schroeder, "and that's a lot of money. But we still have to raise $37,342 more. That's a lot of money to raise in only 13 days in which to do it."

At a meeting of the campaign cabinet composed of all division chairmen, Schroeder pointed out most of the amount reported to date represents gifts of relatively few subscribers.

"Our big gift potential is just about gone," he said. "From here on in we must depend on the average family or business firm which can afford to give in the $100 to $1,000 bracket."

3-Year Pledges

He contended the average person can give more to a cause like the hospital than might at first be thought possible. He pointed out that the subscribers, instead of thinking in terms of an outright cash 40 moves in diameter. responding now to make the fund campaign a success.

"Too many people have worked unselfishly for many long years and too many others have contributed and hoped for just as long to allow the effort to die now just when complete success is in our hands," he said.

One Day A Week

In an effort to reach the $700,000 goal, campaign leaders have been asked to spend at least one full day a week on the drive.

It was pointed out there are only 12 days left in which to raise almost $200,000 and there will be no extension.

The chief reason for concern at this point is that too many potential contributors have not yet been contacted. Schroeder said. That's why we've asked our top leaders to drop everything else and lend a hand on solicitors who've some of our workers have failed to do," he explained.

The next report luncheon is scheduled for 12:15 Thursday afternoon at the Conway hotel, and Schroeder asked that all subscription cards not reported at the luncheon be turned in so they can be distributed to other workers.

Drizzle, Mist Give Fox Cities Dreary Look

A light drizzle of the fine mist variety, a few snowflakes and fog wisps made the Fox Cities area a dreary place this morning and bothered motorists considerably.

The state highway commission reported today that the overnight freezing drizzle caused slippery conditions in spots within a line connecting Green Bay and Madison. La Crosse and Superior recorded small amounts of snow and drizzle in the 24-hour period ending at 6 o'clock this morning.

A spreading storm, featuring a mass of Arctic air, brought chilling weather to northern plains, but the predicted cold did not reach into this area of Wisconsin. The high for Tuesday in Appleton was 34 degrees and the overnight low, 26 degrees, the same temperature as at 11 o'clock this morning. An east wind was traveling 12 miles an hour this morning.

Nighttime temperature minimums ranged from 17 at Park Falls to 33 at Milwaukee. Tuesday's highs were in the

Better Health, Future Homemakers' Project

Waupaca County Club Agent Reviews
Achievements of 1957, Plans for '58

Waupaca — A better health program for Homemakers clubs in the county and a continuation of the county Homemaker's chorus were recommended by County Home Agent Kathryn Allen Tuobbs in her annual report to the county board of supervisors.

For the 4-H program she recommended more training of home furnishing leaders, an efficient way of checking and judging 4-H record books, expansion of home demonstration and 4-H work to all corners of the county, a better leaders council and more space in the youth building at the county fair.

The home agent's work consists of aiding youth and adults and her time is divided between them. Generally 4-H club members and Homemaker's clubs work closely in their projects and related activities.

800 in 51 Clubs

The enrollment of the Waupaca County Homemaker's is approximately 800 with a total of 51 clubs scattered throughout the county. Some of the events they sponsored for the first time this year included the Christmas fair, the Homemaker's chorus, an upholstery workshop and a pressure canning clinic.

Projects which received continued support were six leaders training projects, a 4-H leaders banquet, craft school, spring and fall council meetings, county achievement day and the state and district council meetings.

Some 387 girl 4-H members out of 730 total membership also received assistance from the county homemaker.

4-H Activities

Four-H activities during the course of the year are style dress revue demonstration contest, judging school music and drama festivals, State fair project training, monthly recreational nights and a newly organized junior leaders' council softball tourney and county picnic.

The highlight of the year is the county fair where members have a chance to exhibit their projects. There were 7192 exhibits this year in the youth department.

During the last three years exhibits in clothing, home furnishings, foods and nutrition food preservation and frozen foods have shown increases from 100 to as many as 300 more exhibits this year than in 1955.

Grassland Farm Families Plan District Roundup

A district round-up for all farm families who participated in the 1957 grassland program will be held in Oshkosh at the American Legion clubhouse on Jan. 16. Russell Luckow, assistant county agent, said today.

The program will last from 10:30 in the morning until 3:30 in the afternoon.

Pasture summary records kept by cooperators will be discussed. Cooperators will receive participation certificates.

Outagamie county farmers who participated in the 1957 grassland program are Manning Nelson, route 2, Shiocton; Clifford Bowers, route 3, Appleton; and Ing Vegoe, route 2, Black Creek.

food exhibits at the county fair and 25 entries in the honey baking contest. Valeria Redmann was chosen as the county Honey Queen and went on to take the state title. This is the second year in a row that Waupaca county has had a state crown.

The agent conducted her leaders' training meetings on low calorie entertaining.

Homemaker's project discussions for the coming months include 'Clothing Accessories' for January, 'Over Meals' for February, 'Least Breads' for March and 'Care of House

Plants' for April.

New Weapon In Fight Against Disease Type

UW Researchers
Employ Fluorescent
Materials in Work

Fluorescent materials, which glow when they're viewed under ultra-violet light, are aiding University of Wisconsin researchers in the fight against Newcastle disease of poultry.

H. R. Bird, J. L. Rountree and R. P. Hanson are using fluorescent antibodies in their research to detect presence of the Newcastle disease virus. This makes identifications of virus-carrying materials much quicker and easier than it has been in the past.

The same method is being studied for use in diagnosis of human diseases, and in other animal and poultry troubles.

Medical School Helps

The researchers use a fluorescent antibody preparation made up in the university medical school by exposing Newcastle anti-serum to fluorescent isocyanate. This causes the antibodies to combine chemically with the isocyanate so they glow under the proper light conditions.

When added to animal tissues containing Newcastle virus, the particles attach themselves to the virus particles. If there is no virus, or some virus other than Newcastle, no such combination occurs. In other diagnostic tests for virus diseases, laboratory animals, embryonating eggs, or complicated physical tests must be used.

But with fluorescent antibodies, the combination is noted by viewing the material under a special microscope with ultra-violet light, a much faster operation in most cases.

Increase of Ketosis Calls for Care of Susceptible Cows

Adjustment of Feed, Management Recommended by County Agent

BY JOHN E. POWERS
Outagamie County Agent

This is the time of the year when the number of dairy cows affected with ketosis or acetone increases. Ketosis can be recognized by a acetone or sweetish odor of the breath, milk and urine of the animal, lack of appetite, rapid decrease in milk flow, and sometimes coma.

The Repair of Machinery in the slack periods during the winter is an economical and efficient practice followed by wise farmers in the Fox Cities area. Donald Uhlenbrauck, route 2, Black Creek, above, checks a distributor connection on his tractor. While many repairs can be made by mechanically minded farmers, complete, professional overhauls before the planting season pay off good dividends. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Grand Champion Steer Slaughtered
Oklahoma City—A "Honeymoon," the $31,000 Hereford steer that was grand champion of the International Livestock show at Chicago, was just so much beef steak today.
He walked the last mile down the slaughter ramp at Armour and Company, Monday.
The carcass of the steer will hang for two weeks in the freezer, then will go to someone who has a lucky number in a drawing.
The steer was purchased by TV entertained Arthur Godfrey at the international, who then presented it to Oklahoma 4-H club youths. They in turn gave it to the National Cowboy Hall of Fame being constructed here.
The tanned hide of the noble "Honeymoon," will go into the hall of fame museum as the second highest priced steer in U.S. history.
"Honeymoon" was raised by Sue and Pete Secondine of West Terre Haute, Ind., who were going to use the $30 a pound received from Godfrey to buy a farm.
While Godfrey paid $30 a pound for the steer at the international auction, Armour officials said that at yesterday's market value the meat would bring 27 or 28 cents a pound. It hasn't been government graded yet.

KIMBERLY, Ph. 8-1161

It is very important to recognize the disease early and then make adjustments in feeding and management and obtain the assistance of a local veterinarian. The disease is non-contagious and results from the cow inadequately responding to increases in milk production immediately after calving.
No treatment has been completely successful. Proper management and feeding can well reduce the amount of disease in the herd. During the first two months after calving, high producing cows are very susceptible to ketosis. Oftentimes, a few minor changes in the dairy program will make a big difference.
Do not have the cows excessively fat at calving time. Excessive fat means that the cow must burn an abnormal amount of fat from its body and this makes it more susceptible to the disease. It helps to keep cows on full feed of good quality roughage, picking out the best hay for ketosis cows as well as feeding them more often may be helpful.
Bring to Full Feed
Bring the cows up to full feed on concentrates after calving as rapidly as possible. The time depends on the individual cow but most cows can be on full feed in ten days. This helps to keep the cow from having to burn too much fat from her body storage.
Never make abrupt changes in the ration. This applies to ing ketosis susceptible period both grain and roughage feed. It is advisable to avoid incidence of ketosis. It was fed feeding large quantities of grass silage during the ketosis period. There is weeks starting at calving time, nothing wrong with good quality grass silage but improperly cured, bad smelling silage is where only one or two cases of less palatable and the cow will ketosis appear each year. It not eat the necessary amount. Bad smelling grass silage is disease is a major problem. high in butyric acid, which is a potential manufacturer of ketosis could also be used in the grain tones which are responsible for as a follow-up of treatment to the disease.
Maintain a proper balance between the roughage and grain. Although it is easier to provide energy faster with an all-grain mixture, the cow is not designed to handle this kind of ration as well as a roughage and grain mixture. She should be fed liberal amounts of grain but not more than she can safely handle. Generally, feed grain to the larger breeds at the rate of 20 pounds per day or 15 pounds per day for small breeds. At animals which are not susceptible the higher levels, it is advisable.

Molasses feeding will not prevent ketosis. The advantage of feeding molasses starter is that it improves the palatability of certain feeds. Cows with ketosis have low levels of sugar in the blood. Molasses is not absorbed as sugar but acted upon by the rumen organisms to produce other products.
Proper facilities for adequate comfort, exercise and ventilation are essential. These conditions will increase the appetite and provide greater comfort to the animal.
The University of Wisconsin experiments show that the feeding of sodium propionate during ketosis susceptible period is helpful in reducing the incidence of ketosis. It was fed feeding large quantities of grass silage during the ketosis period. There is weeks starting at calving time, nothing wrong with good quality grass silage but improperly cured, bad smelling silage is where only one or two cases of less palatable and the cow will ketosis appear each year. It not eat the necessary amount. GENUINE PARTS, TRAINED MECHANICS, LATEST FACTORY INFORMATION & PROCEDURES

Chilton — The Calumet county Dairy Herd Improvement association is planning a drive to encourage more farmers to test for production. Production records of cows on test has increased 100 per cent in the last 34 years, according to O. W. Meyer, county agent.

In 1923 when the DHIA program was begun here by Willard Riehl the top 10 herds in the county averaged 8,800 pounds of milk and 313 pounds of butter fat per cow.

Six years later, the 10 top test herds averaged 9,528 pounds of milk and 367 pounds of butterfat.

Increase in Test

By 1943 and equal number of high producing herd averaged 11,813 pounds of milk with the butterfat average going up to 424 pounds per cow.

Last year, Gerald Loefer, who works as DHIA tester, reported the high ranking Calumet county herds on the milk testing program averaged 16,295 pounds of milk and 640 pounds of fat.

County herds not on the test program have remained almost at the level of herds tested when the program was begun in 1923.

The DHIA office will mail cards to all county dairymen requesting that they take part in the program.

State Farmers Turning to More Soil Conservation Practices

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — It was a good year for soil conservation in Wisconsin agriculture, says the Wisconsin soil conservation committee.

"Teamwork is getting conservation on the land," says the state coordinating group which supervises the work of the 71 county soil conservation districts.

All of the 35,000,000 acres on 153,558 farms, including about 22,500,000 acres of cropland, are now technically within soil conservation districts. Actual work has reached only a portion of the total expanse of agricultural land, however.

The committee says that about 12,000,000 acres thus far have been surveyed, and that there are now about 37,000 active cooperators among farmers, or slightly less than a quarter.

The most popular form of soil conservation to date is strip cropping. Nearly 900,000 acres of farm land are now being cultivated to strip crops, according to the year end summary.

Other achievements to date by Wisconsin farmers: contour farming 141,000 acres; pasture improvement 184,000 acres; terracing 3,514 acres; diversions 1,539 acres; tree planting 37,497 acres; wildlife area improvement 16,986 acres; farm drainage 179,541 acres.

The committee also noted that the federal farmer home administration has made about $100,000,000 in soil and water loans to Wisconsin farmers, about $70,000,000 for operating loans for land improvement, and about $36,000,000 in real estate loans primarily directed toward soil improvement work.

The County Agent Answers

How would I go about becoming a 4-H member?

Any boy or girl in Outagamie county, between the ages of 10 and 21, and who is interested in taking part in club activities should contact his local 4-H leader or write or call the county extension office. We will be glad to help organize a new club or acquaint you with other clubs in your area.

What are some of the activities 4-H club members take part in?

There are a number of activities 4-H members can take—such as music, creation, health or safety promotional activities in the community. The 4-H program is not all work. There are times when 4-H members have recreation and fun.

What are some of the popular 4-H projects?

The popular projects carried in Outagamie county are: dairy, livestock, crops, gardening, foods and nutrition, clothing, and food preservation. There are 30 projects in all, so there is a wide selection for every 4-H member.

How satisfactory is nylon as a floor covering fabric?

Good quality nylon rugs spring back after crushing and resist well. Stains wipe up easily from the synthetics but in all-over cleaning they may not keep the original look as wool. Static is the greatest disadvantage of nylon floor coverings. When a blend is made with nylon, it is best to have at least half nylon to get the advantage of the durability of nylon.

Port Manager Pact Extended

10-Year Contract,
Plus Option, Voted
By County Board

The Outagamie county board Tuesday approved a 10-year contract with an additional 5-year option for county airport Manager Max Sagunsky.

Except for the time period, and an insurance program, the contract is identical with the current one. Under its terms, Sagunsky is paid $4,400 annually by the county and in turn pays the county $600 a year for rental of hangar units.

The new contract raises the liability insurance required from $50,000 for a single injury to $75,000 and from $100,000 to $150,000 for more than one injury.

The board's airport committee for the last several months has been trying to extend Sagunsky's contract for a longer period, but board members have insisted on more information. A study, conducted by Corporation Counsel Raymond Dohr, showed that the average contract throughout the state was 15 years, with specific contracts ranging from 10 to 99 years.

Rent Scale

The contract specifies that Sagunsky has to pay the county $600 a year until 6 per cent of the port's net income (after taxes) goes over that amount. If the income goes over $10,000 after taxes, the county's payment also will increase.

As airport manager, Sagunsky is responsible for the entire operation and maintenance of the port, selling fuel and lubrication supplies, providing airplane service facilities, plane storage and flying lessons.

Sagunsky has been manager of the airport since 1933 on an annual contract basis.

The stipulation settling the suit provides that Employers Liability Assurance company, on behalf of Meyer corporation is to pay $25,000, of which $7,500 will go to Downing's attorneys as their fee, $10,000 to Downing and $7,500 to the American Auto Insurance company which carried the workmen's compensation for the Wisconsin Bridge and Iron company.

Calls for Nash To Seek Election To State Office

Milwaukee — The state Democratic chairman called Monday night for support of his predecessor as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Chairman Patrick Lucey of Madison said, "I have felt for some time that the Democratic party would be fortified if Phillee Nash could be persuaded to run for lieutenant governor."

Lucey took over Nash's job as state chairman last year after winning a close election at the state Democratic convention.

The Madison man said party unity was not a motive in his plea for support of Nash.

"As for healing wounds," Lucey said, "we are past that, and Phillee would agree we have just as much unity as we want to have."

Purse Snatcher Runs Into Nail of Blows

Louisville, Ky. — A would-be purse snatcher grabbed the bag on the arm of Miss Betty Singleton Monday, and got a series of clouts on the head for his trouble.

"I yelled bloody murder and hit him so many times I tore up the umbrella," she said. The man ran, without the purse.

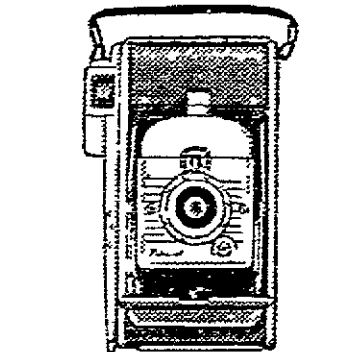

Miss Singleton saved her purse, and the one dollar it contained.

But the umbrella — which she had borrowed — was a total loss.

'Scooter' McLean Is Enthusiastic About Draftees

Coach Says 6 Recruits Have Size, Speed and Desire

BY CHUCK CAPALDO

Green Bay — "Scooter" McLean, head coach of the Green Bay Packers, came back from Mobile, Ala., with high hopes for the six Packer draft choices he saw play in the Senior bowl game Saturday. "I was impressed by what I saw," McLean said today. "They seem to have all the requirements — height, weight, speed and desire — to make the grade in pro football." The "Scooter" was talking about Dan Currie of Michigan State, Louisiana State's Jim Taylor, Dick Christy of North Carolina State, Ray Nitschke of Illinois, Idaho State's Jerry Kramer and Clyde Letbetter of Baylor.

A Prize Pupil

Currie, one of Duffy Daugherty's prize pupils, was the Packers' No. 1 choice at the National Football league's preliminary draft session in Philadelphia Dec. 2.

Then came Taylor, Christy, Nitschke, whom the Giants gave up for John Martinovic; and Kramer in that order. Letbetter was the Packers' twentieth draft selection as a sophomore in 1956.

McLean, who is boning up on likely prospects who will be available when the NFL draft resumes Jan. 28, said he has formed some ideas about where his newest recruits will fit in best.

"I've pretty definitely made up my mind on Kramer," McLean said. "Unless something unforeseen comes up he'll start out the season as an offensive guard. He has all the qualities: speed, height, and weight. He sure seems to have the desire, too."

McLean wasn't so sure about Currie.

"I asked him what position he thought would suit him best," McLean said, "and he told me, 'Any place you need me I'll play, tackle to tackle or behind the line.'" McLean indicated that he probably will try the All-America center at linebacker.

McLean said Taylor, who led the nation's college backs in scoring and was voted the outstanding player in the Senior bowl, will get a crack at the offensive backfield. "Not necessarily fullback," McLean said. "Maybe as a halfback."

Dips A Little

He described Christy as a strong, ball carrier who runs well inside and outside. "He has nice movements when he runs," the coach added. "He dips a little when he's about to be tackled and doesn't give a tackler a full shot at him."

Nitschke, a 220-pounder, impressed McLean as a hard-nose.

"He has good coordination for his size," McLean said. "He told me he'd play anywhere just so he played. I'll try him out as an offensive fullback and linebacker."

McLean said he has pegged the 6-2, 225-pound Letbetter as "strictly an offensive guard."

McLean said he will not make a decision about his assistant coaches until after the Jan. 28 player draft.

"I want to get the draft out of the way first before I think about naming my assistants," he said.

Hortonville Quintet Wins 10th in Row Whips Denmark, 69-49, in Little 9's First-Place Battle

Denmark — Good shooting, solid rebounding and tight defense—that's what winning basketball teams are made of. And that's what Hortonville High school's unbeaten Polar Bears were made of here Tuesday night as they convincingly handed Denmark High its first loss of the Little Nine conference season, 69-49.

Ahead by just nine points (53-44) after 27 minutes of tense action before a packed house, the Bears turned on the fast-break steam. The galloping winners poured in 13 straight points in a 3-minute span for a gaping 66-44 margin to seal Denmark's doom.

Tenth in Succession The triumph was the seventh straight in Little Nine conference play and the tenth in succession this season for Coach Russ Tiedemann's club.

Denmark, which had figured as Hortonville's stiffest title challenger going into Tuesday's game, is now 5-1 in the league and 8-2 overall.

Four of the visitors tossed in between 14 and 19 points and the losers just couldn't match that kind of scoring balance.

Respectably but dead-eyed Jim Steffen swished 19 points to tie the Vikings. Dave Mahluk for individual honors.

After Jim came guard Dennis Sommers with 15, and guard Joe Steffen and forwarder Bob Broehm with 14 apiece.

The Steffen brothers were key figures in the victors' last quarter blitzkrieg.

Joe, the "chaser" in Hortonville's 1-2-3 zone defense, rolled in eight points and Jim six in the final segment as the Steffens ball-hawked Denmark to death. Most of the brothers' last quarter points came on fast breaks after ball thefts.

Although they trailed all of the way, the hosts weren't out of contention until that last-quarter barrage.

Better in Second Half An effective 3-2 Denmark zone in the first half allowed Hortonville but nine baskets in 37 shots as the Bears owned a narrow 24-18 halftime lead.

The Hortonville zone yielded the Danes nine "makes" in 32 "takes" in the initial 16 minutes.

Both clubs did better after the halftime break. The winners turned in 13 straight points in a 3-minute span for a gaping 66-44 margin to seal Denmark's doom.

FRIDAY'S GAMES:
Neenah at Menasha.
Shawano at Two Rivers.
Clintonville at Kimberly.
Kaukauna at New London.

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Neenah — A pair of key attractions — Neenah at Menasha and Shawano at Two Rivers—headline Friday night's activity in the Mid-Eastern conference.

Other tests on the docket send Clintonville to Kimberly and Kaukauna to New London.

Games in the intercity series

between Neenah and Menasha usually are hotly contested while in recent seasons the Shawano-Two Rivers clash has taken on indications of an interesting rivalry.

Indians Avenue Losses Two Rivers dealt the state champions their only two defeats last year and those setbacks cost them the conference crown. The Indians gained revenge by stopping the Raiders in the semi-finals of the state tournament at Madison in March.

Shawano guns for its twentieth straight win over a 2-year period in the Two Rivers encounter. In the last 24 seasons, it has won 44 of 46 games and those losses were to Two Rivers last winter. In 1957-58 play, the state champs have 10 straight. They won their tenth last Saturday evening in an 80-59 non-conference verdict over Marshfield.

The Raiders are an inconsistent lot. They only lost to unbeaten Manitowish by a single point and came within a hair of upsetting Neenah on the latter's court but they had to go all out to edge winless Clintonville by two points last Friday.

Scores 1,000 Points The game will match three of the loop's most prolific scorers. Two Rivers' Ron Brault has scored 30 or more points on three occasions this season while Marty Gharrity and John Cantwell have been stalwarts on the Shawano club for three seasons. They hit 31 and 30, respectively, against Kimberly last weekend.

Gharrity, currently the conference's leading scorer with 137 points, has 261 in 10 games this season while Cantwell has 178. The latter, who saw varsity action as a freshman, now boasts an even 1,000 points in his career.

Neenah guns for its eleventh straight win at the expense of Menasha. The Bluejays hope to rebound after a pair of narrow losses last weekend (71-67 to Kaukauna and 66-63 to Wisconsin Rapids).

Second Division The loss to Kaukauna dropped the Jays into the second division. They are now tied for 2-3 with Kaukauna, both with 2-3. A year ago the Rockets and the Jays both won on their home court and the Menashans his Wisconsin basketball team, which appeared headed for the Big Ten cellar after losing its first two league starts.

"It was as a great reversal of form as I've ever seen," hopes to rebound against Clintonville. The loss to Shawano dropped the Papermakers into son from their early losses, and are sticking to plan now. Kaukauna, on the basis of its surprise win over Menasha, is favored to turn back winless New London. The Bulldogs had a 41-all tie with Neenah midway in the third period of last Friday's game but were held to nine points in the last 14 periods.

Paul Giel, McCormick Sign Giant Contracts San Francisco — Signed contracts of two young pitchers were received Tuesday by the San Francisco Giants of the National league.

The pitchers are bonus players Mike McCormick, 19, a left-hander, and Paul Giel, 26, a right-hander. Recently out of the Army and an All-America half-back at Minnesota in 1953.

Giel was signed in 1954 with a $60,000 bonus.

While Giel scored it, the baserunner was set up by reserve Steve

Begin Recovery The Badgers began the recovery by beating Ohio State, 67-64, at Madison Saturday and continued by edging Illinois, 71-70, at Champaign on Monday. It was only the third Wisconsin victory at Illinois in 23 years.

The new turn of events left Foster a happy man as he said, "It would have been a shame for our boys to lose at Illinois. We played a real fine game, but I didn't think we had it at the end and all of a sudden there it was. Success is good for morale and I think the boys like the taste of victory."

The triumph came in the final seven seconds when Walt Holt scored a basket on a left-handed jump shot.

While Holt scored it, the baserunner was set up by reserve Steve Baseball Won't Object to Some Anti-Trust Legislation Washington — Congress would prefer to remain in that status. But with the subcommittee evidently preparing to recommend that at least some phases of professional team sports be regulated, Frick said baseball would not press its objections.

between Neenah and Menasha usually are hotly contested while in recent seasons the Shawano-Two Rivers clash has taken on indications of an interesting rivalry.

Indians Avenue Losses Two Rivers dealt the state champions their only two defeats last year and those setbacks cost them the conference crown. The Indians gained revenge by stopping the Raiders in the semi-finals of the state tournament at Madison in March.

Shawano guns for its twentieth straight win over a 2-year period in the Two Rivers encounter. In the last 24 seasons, it has won 44 of 46 games and those losses were to Two Rivers last winter. In 1957-58 play, the state champs have 10 straight. They won their tenth last Saturday evening in an 80-59 non-conference verdict over Marshfield.

The Raiders are an inconsistent lot. They only lost to unbeaten Manitowish by a single point and came within a hair of upsetting Neenah on the latter's court but they had to go all out to edge winless Clintonville by two points last Friday.

Scores 1,000 Points The game will match three of the loop's most prolific scorers. Two Rivers' Ron Brault has scored 30 or more points on three occasions this season while Marty Gharrity and John Cantwell have been stalwarts on the Shawano club for three seasons. They hit 31 and 30, respectively, against Kimberly last weekend.

Gharrity, currently the conference's leading scorer with 137 points, has 261 in 10 games this season while Cantwell has 178. The latter, who saw varsity action as a freshman, now boasts an even 1,000 points in his career.

Neenah guns for its eleventh straight win at the expense of Menasha. The Bluejays hope to rebound after a pair of narrow losses last weekend (71-67 to Kaukauna and 66-63 to Wisconsin Rapids).

Second Division The loss to Kaukauna dropped the Jays into the second division. They are now tied for 2-3 with Kaukauna, both with 2-3. A year ago the Rockets and the Jays both won on their home court and the Menashans his Wisconsin basketball team, which appeared headed for the Big Ten cellar after losing its first two league starts.

"It was as a great reversal of form as I've ever seen," hopes to rebound against Clintonville. The loss to Shawano dropped the Papermakers into son from their early losses, and are sticking to plan now. Kaukauna, on the basis of its surprise win over Menasha, is favored to turn back winless New London. The Bulldogs had a 41-all tie with Neenah midway in the third period of last Friday's game but were held to nine points in the last 14 periods.

Paul Giel, McCormick Sign Giant Contracts San Francisco — Signed contracts of two young pitchers were received Tuesday by the San Francisco Giants of the National league.

The pitchers are bonus players Mike McCormick, 19, a left-hander, and Paul Giel, 26, a right-hander. Recently out of the Army and an All-America half-back at Minnesota in 1953.

Giel was signed in 1954 with a $60,000 bonus.

While Giel scored it, the baserunner was set up by reserve Steve

Begin Recovery The Badgers began the recovery by beating Ohio State, 67-64, at Madison Saturday and continued by edging Illinois, 71-70, at Champaign on Monday. It was only the third Wisconsin victory at Illinois in 23 years.

The new turn of events left Foster a happy man as he said, "It would have been a shame for our boys to lose at Illinois. We played a real fine game, but I didn't think we had it at the end and all of a sudden there it was. Success is good for morale and I think the boys like the taste of victory."

The triumph came in the final seven seconds when Walt Holt scored a basket on a left-handed jump shot.

Vince Martinez Favored Over Turner Tonight

NBA Rates Bout As Welterweight Elimination Test

Philadelphia — Depend- ing upon where you live, to- night's bout between Philadel- phia's Gil Turner and Vince Martinez of Paterson, N.J., is or isn't a fight to earn a shot at the welterweight champion- ship.

If you live in New York or in any place where the jurisdic- tion of the World boxing cham- pionship committee is accepted as law, you'll merely be watch- ing one of a series of elimina- tions to determine a title-hold- er.

If you live in Massachusetts you probably will watch the bout as just another fight of top welterweights.

Semi-Final Bout

If, however, you live in a state where boxing is under the National Boxing association, you will be witnessing the semi- final elimination in the 147- pound title series. The winner has been ordered by the NBA to fight Isaac Logart for the title vacated by Carmen Basilio after he won the middleweight crown from "Sugar" Ray Rob- inson.

The NBA said it will recog- nize the winner of a Turner, Martinez, Logart, Gaspar Orta- ga elimination series as cham- pion. Logart beat Ortega and thus already has fought his way into the final.

Martinez, the clever boxer- puncher who has won 58 fights and lost only 5, is the favorite at about 7-5. The experts feel he will outbox the aggressive Turner and possibly could win by a knockout.

Turner has won 55, lost 13 and drawn in 1.

ABC will telecast the fight.

Basilio Gets Neil Plaque

Turns Attention To Rematch With Robinson

New York — After a night of being feted as the 1957 "Fighter of the Year," middle- weight champion Carmen Basilio turned to serious business today.

The 30-year-old former Marine and his co-managers, John De John and Joe Neuro, will confer with Jim Norris, head of the International Box- ing club, regarding terms for a return title bout with "Sugar" Ray Robinson. He dethroned Robinson with a split 15-round decision in their torrid scrap last September.

"I want this fight more than anything," declared the crag- gy-faced former onion farmer from Chittenango, N.Y., after he had received the Edward J. Neil Memorial plaque as "Fighter of the Year" at the Boxing Writers association din- ner Tuesday night.

"I want to beat Robinson more than any fighter I ever met," Basilio continued. "I want to win decisively so that there will be no question about it."

ners wound up with 28 baskets in 70 shots for 40 per cent. Den- mark shot at a .328 rate, with 22 for 67.

The defending conference champs buried 13 free throws in 19 tries for a 68.4 mark while Denmark had trouble from the foul stripe, making just five of 14 for 35.7 per cent.

Over 800 fans kept up a ter- rific din as Hortonville main- tained an approximate 4-point edge during the low-scoring first quarter. Lanky forecourt- er Shelly Watzka had eight of Denmark's 10 points as Horton- ville owned a 14-10 lead at the first rest.

Defense continued to hold the upper hand in the second seg- ment in which Hortonville had a 10-8 point bulge.

Denmark opened the second half by making its first six shots and the winners dropped in five of theirs as the long- range marksmen began hitting over the zones.

Mahlk, a stumpy senior with an effortless and archless little pop shot, sank his first four at- tempts in the third period—all at least 20-footers—and tallied 11 markers in the quarter to keep the Danes in contention going into the final frame.

Coach John Hickey's charg- es, who had lost only to Ke- waunee in the season opener previously, stayed within range of Hortonville until the speedy Steffens took over.

The well-conditioned Bears didn't take a time out until there was 3:25 to go in the game and Tiedemann didn't substitute until the clock showed but 1:05 remaining.

The game is the only meet- ing of the two Little Nine pow- ers during the 1957-8 league season.
